U.S. BREAKS OFF PEACE TALKS IN KOREA

Army Trims Draft Call for February

THANKS, PAL. Jerry Jagars, 3, and his cocker spaniel pal, Bunny, talk things over at home in Long Beach, Calif., after police found them dripping wet and shivering on the bank of the Los Angeles river flood control channel. "Bunny helped me out of the water," was all the boy could tell officers. Police theorized that the boy must have fallen into the deep water and the dog must have jumped in and dragged the lad to shore.

Starts Ahead Of Schedule On Reduction

Manpower Experts Had Not Expected To Begin Cuts So Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon, slashing its draft call for next February to 18,000 men, appeared today to be starting five months ahead of the originally contemplated schedule for cutting down the size of the Army.

The new call is 5,000 below the monthly calls which have continued since last July—and something far different from recent statements by some Pentagon manpower experts that monthly quotas might be hiked to about 37,000.

Announced by Wilson

Secretary of Defense Wilson, however, was not one of those who made such statements. It was Wilson who announced the new February draft calls yesterday—and it also was Wilson who on July 1 said, in answer to news conference questions, that he thought calls could be dropped to 15,000 or 18,000 with a truce in Korea.

Wilson's comments yesterday came as he boarded a plane for Paris after some intensive final-hours work with other Pentagon officials on the Defense Department's recommendations for the next fiscal year.

Army Loses Battle

Wilson's comments seemed to mean the Army definitely has lost its battle against a suggestion from the top defense level that it reduce its personnel strength from about 1½ million now to 1,281,000 by July 1, the start of the next fiscal year.

The Army previously had been going ahead to bring its strength down to 1,423,000 by next July 1.

If it was to hold a level somewhere near that—while balancing off losses through expiration of enlistments—it would have required a continuation of increase of the 23,000 monthly induction figure.

Wilson was asked yesterday, as he prepared to leave for the North Atlantic Treaty ministers' meeting in Paris, about the draft call plan and other matters.

Can't Be Cut Further

Can monthly calls be cut still more beyond 18,000?

"I don't think so," he answered.

Can the draft be dropped?

Not so long as the international situation imposes substantial military manpower requirements—not "in the foreseeable future," he said. If there were no draft, he added, "you probably couldn't maintain half the men we now have."

HOSPITAL PALS. Jim Welch, 18, is visited in Strong Memorial hospital in Rochester, N. Y., by Mary Ann Ranney, 10, to whom he donated an 8½-inch piece of bone from his leg. Jim had received many gifts and praises from throughout the nation for his donation. Doctors at the hospital say both Jim and Mary are "doing fine."

Dean Leaves Parley After Blast by Reds

Says Perfidy Charge In June POW Releases Provided Final Straw

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. S. envoy Arthur Dean abruptly broke off negotiations to set up a Korean peace conference today and angrily walked out in the midst of a marathon Communist harangue.

Dean said the final straw was a charge that the United States connived with South Korea in the release of 27,000 anti-Red Korean war prisoners from Allied stockades last June.

Dean said he treated the Communist charge "as a reason to break off the talks. . .

Accused of Perfidy

"I said they had accused my government of perfidy and that unless it was withdrawn I would interpret it as a motion on their side to indefinitely recess," the U. S. envoy told newsmen.

He emphasized that only a direct request from the Communists, coupled with a full retraction of the charge, could get the seven-week-old preliminary peace negotiations under way again.

Asked if he was going to Washington, he replied:

"I don't know."

It was reported Friday that the spokesman for 17 nations which fought in Korea probably would return to the United States before Christmas, leaving the stalemated negotiations in charge of his chief assistant.

(In Washington, a State Department spokesman said there would be no comment before cabled reports of the break-off had reached the capital and officials had a chance to study them.)

Longest Session

Dean's walkout ended a 5 hour 45 minute session, the longest since the talks began Oct. 26.

The Reds became "ruder and ruder, more and more insulting and more arrogant" as the long session wore on, Dean said.

"It was evident," he added, "that they wanted to become so rude and so arrogant as to force discontinuance of the talks."

He said the Communists may have wanted to break off the negotiations because they want "to escape their responsibility under the armistice agreement for a unified Korea."

"It is obvious that they are now doing everything they can to prevent the unification of Korea," he added.

Dean Makes Accusations

Shortly after the record session opened Dean accused the communists of holding American and South Korean war prisoners as slave laborers in China and Manchuria.

Dean told newsmen he and President Syngman Rhee of South

SIAMESE TWINS WILL MAKE HISTORY. Cleveland's Siamese twins—identified only as Nancy and Ellen—will make medical history Monday when they celebrate their first birthday. It will be the first time that both Siamese twins have survived a year after their separation. The girls, who were seperated just an hour after their delivery, are normal youngsters, each weighing about 18 pounds. The children's mother asked that the family's identity be kept secret.

Fresh View of Problems

Nixon Heads Home From Eastern Tour

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon returns to Washington Monday with a fresh bird's-eye view of Asia and the Middle East and a report for President Eisenhower that may recommend a review of some aspects of American policy toward this explosive part of the world.

But the vice president, after an intensive 10-week trip, is expected to strongly support nonrecognition of Communist China, a continued military buildup in the Far East and other major points of present U. S. policy.

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, has traveled over 45,000 miles in swift but revealing visits to 21 countries between New Zealand and Africa. He left Iran today for Lybia after a three-day visit here.

Speaking to newsmen at the city's airport, he paid tribute to Premier Fazollah Zahedi's government, saying the country has "the kind of leadership needed to provide stability and real progress."

The vice president has gathered for Eisenhower perhaps the most comprehensive survey of the Pacific area, Far East, south Asia and a slice of the Middle East ever collected by a top-ranking American official. It covers everything from views on Indian Prime Minister Nehru to the operation of American overseas libraries.

Nixon has given no public indication of his own views, but there is evidence he may recommend some changes in the approach to Asiatic problems and perhaps some alteration of such technical operations as the U.S. information program.

He already has reported to the Mother Still Hopes To See Her POW Son

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Mrs. Portia Howe waited in Tokyo tonight, still hoping to see her prisoner of war son who stayed with the Communists. The Indian Command said it would deliver a mother's appeal to the son tomorrow.

A note from the Alden, Minn., mother to her son Pfc. Richard R. Tenneson has been approved for delivery to a compound in Korea's neutral zone where 22 Americans who refused to return home are held.

The message released by the Indian Command was short and restrained, but carried a note of appeal.

"I'm staying in a hotel in Tokyo," it said. "I'd be very happy to talk to you. I came out here in spite of Christmas preparation to talk with you. A message would reach me in my hotel in Tokyo—the Marunouchi, Room 905, phone 23-0271-9 or 23-4161-9."

Meanwhile, a high Army source in Tokyo said the military does not want Mrs. Howe to see her son primarily because he might insult her publicly, giving the Communists fresh propaganda material.

Face on Television Screen Goes Away; Family Relieved

BLUE POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Ah, face, it's good to know you—and to know you have disappeared from that television screen.

The face that looked out of Jerry Travers' TV set for two days, with the set turned off or on, was identified by NBC as that of Francey Lane, a singer on one of its shows.

Then "poof"—as Mrs. Travers described it—Miss Lane's face on the screen turned into a ball shortly after lunchtime yesterday and finally faded away

TV experts who at first said "it can't happen" had another explanation:

Could be an explosion of electrons burned the image of a face into the fluorescent lining of the picture tube.

Edington Held In Break-In of Bar in Marion

Bound Over to Jury On Charge of Attempt To Crack Safe at Stag

Howard Earl Edington, 23, of 358 Milburn Ave. was charged today with breaking and entering and attempting to open the safe at the Stag Bar and Grill, 462 W. Center St. early Friday morning.

Edington was arrested late Friday morning when he went to police headquarters to claim his car, which had been found at the rear of the Stag after the attempted burglary.

Police said Edington was unable to explain how his car came to be at the scene. Merchant Policeman Louis P. Brahn, who had come upon a burglar working on the safe and fired two shots at him, identified Edington as the man at whom he had fired the shots.

Police said they found a parka Edington was alleged to have worn at the time of the burglary, some chisels, and a flashlight hidden in the weeds along the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad tracks Friday afternoon.

Burglary Nets Thieves $1,600 At Terzo Store

Local Business Firm Looted Third Time; Cash, Valuables Taken

The third burglary in four years at Terzo Sundries Store at the corner of Bellefontaine Ave. and Davids St. was reported today to city police. A safe containing cash and bonds, and merchandise was stolen. Total loss was placed at $1,600.

The break-in was reported at 12:20 a.m. this morning. A night watchman found the rear door of the store had been forced open and the store looted. He informed the owner, Dominic Terzo of 969 E. Center St.

Police were notified and discovered the safe had been taken out of the store. The back door had been forced open, and several crates, and other merchandise moved to permit the burglars to remove the safe.

Cash in the amount of $200 was reported in the safe, in addition to savings bonds, insurance and other papers.

The store had been burglarized four years ago, when, on New Year's Day, 1949, burglars entered and forced open the cash register.

On Valentine's Day, two years ago, the safe was completely demolished. This burglary was the first time any merchandise was taken from the store. Loss from those two break-ins was about $600.

Merchandise taken included jewelry, cameras, flash units, and a billfold.

Talks Due Monday

U. S. Interviewers Will Meet Red GIs

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Six of the 22 American war prisoners who stayed with the Communists are to appear Monday before fellow Americans who will try to talk them into coming home.

The 22 balky Americans and 1 Briton are reported to have promised to meet with U. S. persuaders.

"They will come out," said Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission. "I am quite sure they will come out."

The U. N. Command abruptly switched from interviews with South Korean prisoners after Red stalling tactics forced suspension of the sessions for the second straight day.

Gen. Thimayya said the American and British POWs imposed one condition for the interviews, to which he agreed—that they be allowed to give newsmen written statements after seeing explainers.

Thimayya called off explanations to South Korean prisoners Saturday after failing to coax any of the 30 scheduled for interviews to attend.

Interviews with American prisoners will be conducted in one tent rather than simultaneously in five as permitted by repatriation commission rules. This would indicate that the six prisoners will be called one at a time.

Engineer Depot Workers Given Increase in Pay

A pay increase to approximately 800 employes of the Marion Engineer Depot, effective Dec. 20, was announced today by Col. John F. Phelan, Depot commander.

The increase, averaging eight cents an hour, has been orderd by the Army-Air Force Wage Board, Washington, D.C., and will be paid to all hourly employes at the Depot.

Wages paid to hourly emplyes in Army and Air Force establishments are based upon the prevailing wage rates for skilled and unskilled manual jobs paid in the community where the installations are located. The wage increase is based on wage information obtained by the Army-Air Force Wage Board in October, 1953, from utilities and industrial firms in Marion, Galion and Mt. Gilead.

Salaried employees will receive no increase as their rates are set by an act of Congress and cannot be changed without further congressional action.

The last increase received by Depot employes was effective Nov. 30, 1952 based on a survey conducted in May and June of the same year. Marion Engineer Depot employes received no increases in October 1953 when it was announced that the Wilkins Air Force Depot received an average increase of seven cents an hour.

Looks for Subversives

Sen. McCarthy Probing Secret Study of Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP)—An aide to Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis) says Project Lincoln, a supersecret study of how to keep America safe from atomic attack, is being probed for subversives by the Senate investigations subcommittee.

The Boston Post, in a copyrighted story, reported that such an investigation was under way. Francis P. Carr, executive staff director of McCarthy's committee, confirmed last night that Project Lincoln is among defense establishments in the Boston area under investigation

The project uses facilities of Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) at Cambridge.

There were, meanwhile, these other developments in McCarthy's investigative activities:

1. He said in an interview he will make several proposals for tightening federal espionage and subversion laws when he and other Republican lawmakers confer with President Eisenhower next week.

2. He said also he is asking the Army to investigate "unresolved questions of loyalty" he contends have been raised about Telford Taylor, former war crimes prosecutor and World War II brigadier general.

3. The subcommittee's search for evidence of spying at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., radar laboratories will be resumed in new York City, probably running daily

Gunshot Wound Proves Fatal to Marion Boy, 15

Rex. J. Davis, 15-year-old Marion boy, died in White Cross Hospital in Columbus early this morning of wounds suffered 12 hours earlier in an accidental shooting.

The boy was wounded Friday afternoon as he was preparing to leave for downtown to look for a job, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

When she went to the bedroom from where the sound came, she found Rex had shot himself, she told investigating deputies. Nearby were a 22 calibre rifle and a 16 gauge shotgun. A bullet from the rifle had struck his head. How the gun was discharged is not known.

Mrs. Carr said she did not know

Mother Needs Hearing Aid, Clothes for Girl

This is one of a series describing families and individuals listed with "Give A Christmas" clearinghouse sponsored by the Junior Service Guild at the Salvation Army. Any organization or individual wishing to contribute may obtain the name of a needy family by calling the clearinghouse secretary at 3-2415 before Dec. 24.

Mrs. E. deserted and left with a two-year-old daughter, would be very appreciative of 'Give A Christmas" aid.

Very handicapped because she is hard of hearing, Mrs. E. finds this complicates her caring for her baby. The doctor has recommended that she have a hearing aid, but she does not have the means to purchase one and as yet none has been secured for her.

Since Mrs. E. has no resources but public aid, obtaining clothing for she and her baby is always a problem. Limited finances supply only the necessary food and lodging. Mrs. E's little girl is big for her age.

She Could Be Identified

Hall Planned To Kill His Partner, Shoulders Says

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The resigned policeman who broke the Greenlease kidnap-slaying case says Carl Austin Hall planned to kill his partner as the one person who could be identified as having a part in the crime.

Louis Shoulders, in an exclusive interview with Globe-Democrat reporter Ted Schafers last night, said Hall told him about the plan Oct. 6, the night Hall was arrested

Hall, calling Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, "nothing but a drunken bum," was quoted by the former officer as saying the slaying was planned for Oct. 7, apparently with the same weapon used to kill 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Shoulders said Hall told him Mrs. Heady was the one who could be identified as a participant in the crime. The 41-year-old divorcee was later identified as the woman who took Bobby from the exclusive Kansas City school.

Mrs. Heady has often expressed intense love for Hall and has asked that he be buried beside her in a family cemetery at Claremont, Mo. The pair is scheduled to die together in the Missouri penitentiary gas chamber early Dec. 18.

Shoulders, who faces Police Department charges for his handling of the arrest, challenged the Police Board to release a full transcript of his testimony in the board's inquiry into the case.

He also declared the confession

Hark! The Herald Angels Sing

A typesetter fills out a page

The printer set the type for the Church of England's "Book of Common Prayer." The composition —"make-up" as printers call it—was giving him trouble. He needed more copy to make the pages come out even. Finding a hymn-poem that began "Hark, how all the welkin rings! Glory to the King of Kings," by an Angelican clergyman named Charles Wesley, the printer filled in the blank space.

In assuming the role of editor, the typesetter really stuck his neck out. Of all people, Charles Wesley! The doors of every Angelican church in the empire had been closed to both him and his brother, John. They could preach their Arminian doctrine of "free grace" in barns and pastures, but not in a building of the church they so brazenly criticized.

And certainly no hymn written by one of the "dirty, lousy Methodists" would be tolerated in the Book of Common Prayer. But the printer didn't know all that. The book went to press. And "the greatest Christmas hymn in the English language" was saved for posterity.

Learning shorthand from scholarly John Byron, Charles Wesley usually jotted down his poems in a hurry. To write 6500 in one lifetime, considering he didn't get started until he was 31, he had to work rapidly. Nor did he take time to "polish" his poems. "Hark, The Herald Angels Sing" has been edited so many times that hardly a line remains as Wesley wrote it.

CHARLES WESLEY'S "Hymn For Christmas Day," as he called it, was picked up by hymn book editors and sung, when it was sung at all, to a dozen different tunes for 117 years. But, in 1840, Germany's boy wonder, Felix Mendelssohn, wrote operas before he was 16—went to Leipzig for the celebration of the 400th anniversary of printing. For the festival, he wrote an opera called "The Festgesang."

Fifteen years later—in 1855—England's 19-year-old tenor, William Haymen Cummings, was running through "The Festgesang" when he realized the second chorus was a natural for "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing."

Charles Wesley wrote his first hymn three days after his "conversion" in May, 1738. His "Hymn For Christmas Day" was written for the Christmas of that year. Hence, it was one of his first hymn-poems. But for the printer who used it to fill in space, it might have been lost. But what really "made" that hymn was Mendelssohn's music, written to celebrate the anniversary of Gutenberg's printing press. As it turned out, 'Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" has been sung more than anything else Charles ever wrote . . . not excepting "Jesus, Lover Of My Soul."

Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new-born King;
Peace on earth, and mercy mild;
God and sinners reconciled.'
Joyful, all ye nations rise,
Join the triumph of the skies;
With angels hosts proclaim,
"Christ is born in Bethlehem."
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new-born King.'

Christ, by highest Heav'n adored,
Christ, the everlasting Lord:
Late in time behold Him come,
Offspring of the Virgin's womb.
Veiled in flesh and God-head see,
Hail th' incarnate Deity!
Pleased as man with men to appear,
Jesus our Immanuel here.
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new-born King."

Hail the Heav'n-born Prince of Peace!
Hail the Son of righteousness!
Light and life to all He brings,
Ris'n with healing in His wings:
Mild He lays His glory by,
Born that man no more may die;
Born to raise the sons of earth;
Born to give them second birth.
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new-born King."

Come, desire of nations, come!
Fix in us Thy humble home:
Rise, the woman's conqu'ring seed,
Bruise in us the serpent's head;
Adam's likeness now efface,
Stamp Thine image in its place:
Second Adam from above,
Reinstate us in Thy love.
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new-born King."

The Powerful Gospel

A Sermonette

By REV. M. E. HOLLENSEN
Pastor of Emanuel Lutheran Church

"For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." Rom. 1:16.

Christian congregations which observe a church year are now celebrating the Advent season. The word "Advent" means "The Coming," and refers to Christ as "The Coming One," the One who came the first time in grace, and the one who will come again at the end of time in judgment.

The Advent season includes the four Sundays before Christmas, and is set apart by the church as a time of spiritual preparation for the celebration of the birthday of Jesus. Christians use this period of the church year to prepare themselves spiritually for the second and final coming of the Savior, and in so doing to have their hearts truly ready to celebrate anew the anniversary of the time when the Word became flesh.

WE THANK GOD that we have adequate means for the spiritual preparation which is necessary for all of us. God has given us His Word, His Gospel, and we are assured that it is so powerful that it is able to bring us to heartfelt repentance because of our sins, to generate faith in our hearts, and to make us true believers in Christ Jesus, our Savior. Paul, writing by inspiration of the Holy Spirit, to the Christians at Rome, said that the Gospel of Christ was the "dynamite" of God. If such be the case, then the Gospel must be a great power.

When we look at this powerful Gospel, we find that:

THE GOSPEL is tremendously powerful, even though its power works invisibly.

We cannot see the Gospel as it works with power in the human heart. For this reason many persons have no respect for God's Word. They look upon it as being merely the words of man.

Christ was well aware of the fact that the Gospel power works invisibly. But Jesus did something to remove any doubts whatsoever in our minds as to the efficacy of the Gospel, the power to accomplish that for which it is intended. After having preached to a multitude at the shore of Gennesaret one day, the Master turned to Peter and told him to launch out into the deep, and let down his nets for a draught.

Peter was reluctant, but at the command of Christ he did it. The catch of fishes was so great that the nets tore and broke.

WHAT WAS THE purpose of this miracle? Jesus took the power of the Word, which He had been preaching and using, and made this self-same power visible for the multitude, by performing a miracle which all could behold. Jesus proved that the power of the Word of God, even though it is invisible, is no less than the tremendous power of God Himself.

We call the power of the Gospel the power of grace, and the power of God in the physical realm the power of omnipotence. Essentially, this power is one and the same, the very power of God Himself. Even though we cannot see the Gospel power working in the hearts of men, we have every assurance, based on the testimony of Christ's miracles, that the Gospel is a tremendous power.

When we look at this powerful Gospel, we find:

THE GOSPEL is tremendously powerful, able to save all who believe.

There has never been a man born of woman who has been beyond the power of the Gospel to save. God cares not what a man has been; whether a man has lived his life in his own way, guiding himself wholly by the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye, and the pride of life, or not. The Gospel is such a magnificent power that it can save him.

The Gospel can bring all men to forgiveness of sins, life and salvation, because Christ is the One who has given the Gospel its power. Take Christ out of the Gospel, and it is powerless. Put Him into the Gospel—and Christ is the Gospel itself—and you have the most glorious power on earth, able to bring lost and condemned sinners into the kingdom of God.

CHRIST ATONED for the sins of the world. He cancelled the guilt of the human race, and bore the eternal punishment for the whole world. Christ opened up the way of heaven for sinners, and His Gospel is that power which brings His blessings to all men.

'Let us then, in this Advent season, turn to Christ as our personal Savior. Let us believe that His righteousness takes away the eternal guilt and everlasting punishment of our sins. Let us know that faith in Jesus saves us unto eternal life. And when the assurance of salvation is ours in Christ, the Advent season has prepared us well for Christ's second coming, and, also, for a truly satisfying celebration of the anniversary of His birth. Amen.

Who wants to be Forgotten?

The pharoah who built a pyramid, the Roman beggar-woman who craved, and saved a lifetime, for a statue to preserve her memory . . . both were moved by the deep-rooted human will to be remembered.

If we believe in immortality, it is natural that we should want to be remembered. And we want to know for certain that the final resting place reflects our own taste and not a stranger's. We want it within easy reach of our children and our children's children. We want the family plot to be one of which our loved ones will be proud for all time.

To be remembered as one who knew and met his obligations, remember first that there is no better time to select your family plot here than — NOW.

Confident Living

One Way To Improve Yourself

Have you ever tested what you think and say and do? It's a good idea to do so just to be sure you think, speak, and do the right things.

DR. PEALE

Many of us have never stopped to set up any fixed standards of testing our conduct. We go from one situation to another in a hit-or-miss fashion, hoping for the best, but often getting the worst. Inevitably, we make mistakes. In so doing we hurt ourselves and we hurt others. In this scientific age why shouldn't we live scientifically and so get better results?

Thinking about this question, about 20 years ago a Chicago manufacturer of aluminum kitchenware, Herbert J. Taylor, found an answer. Mr. Taylor has, apparently, a talent for finding answers—he has brought his company from bankruptcy in 1932 to a present value of two million dollars.

MR. TAYLOR'S answer is known as "The Four-Way Test." It is simply this:

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build good will and better friendship?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Mr. Taylor attributes his business success to the constant application of this test in his own life. Since 1942, he has made it available to Rotary International, of which he is an active member, for recommendation and distribution.

Rotary clubs throughout the world have taken an interest in the project and the test has been translated into many languages and applied in many situations. An article in a recent issue of The Rotarian tells of its adoption by the high school students of Kenosha, Wis., who have used it successfully to make their lives and personal relationships, in school and out, fuller and better.

Whether you are in school or long since out of school, the application of this test in your own life can make you a better person and increase your efficiency. Of course, the test derives from the basic truths taught by religion; it is found in the age-old wisdom of the Bible.

IN FACT, all ethical standards come from religious teachings. For example, the book of Job has a test which is very applicable to this matter: "Return unto the Almighty and he will build you up." That's very modern-sounding advice from a very old book. It means return to God, practice His laws and you will become a better person.

When you return to the Almighty, you become conscious of the ethical standards by which you ought to judge yourself. And when you test yourself by these standards, you will gradually build yourself up into the kind of person who is right-thinking, right-speaking and right-doing. Then you get along better with people and are held in higher esteem. You will do better in every way.

Begin today. Learn the Four-Way Test and apply it to all your thoughts, words and actions. Then go deeper into the principles of your religion which make for more effective thinking, speaking and doing. Personally, I've found it valuable to judge myself honestly and objectively. When done regularly, it prevents one from getting too far "off the beam." Its surprising how such personality testing brings about improvement. Test yourself and improve yourself. Return to the Almighty and He will build you up.

Who is America's biggest boss?

HE IS YOUR BOSS — everybody's boss. He has the biggest say in whether or not you take home a fat pay envelope.

Who is he? The consumer—the person who buys or does not buy, the product you have a part in making. If he thinks the product of your company is better than that of any competitor, and if he can get it at an attractive price, he'll buy it; your company will prosper; and there'll be more money for the wages and salaries of your company's employees.

If he can get a superior product elsewhere, or get it cheaper, of course he'll buy that.

By doing your full part in turning out the best possible product — and turning it out more efficiently, so that it can be sold at a lower price — you can persuade the "biggest boss" to buy it, and so make raises possible. The better you produce, the more you benefit, in the long run.

You are the boss when it comes to deciding what you will do with your dollars that don't have to be spent. Why not deposit them here, and be ready for future emergencies . . . opportunities. Next payday is a good time to start.

Ohioan Says Reds Succeed in Boring Into Church Units

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) —Rep. Gordon Scherer (R-Ohio) says Communists have been partially successful in their attempt "to bore from within" American religious institutions.

Scherer, from Cincinnati, says he does not know to what extent Communists have infiltrated the ministry.

In a speech last night to the Central Ohio Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, Scherer said some ministers have become the unwitting "dupes" of the Communists. He added that most ministers remain unswayed by Communist doctrine.

Scherer, a member of the House Un - American Activities Committee, said his group was attempting to indicate to the American People the efforts of a Communist conspiracy to use the church as a means of achieving Communists ends.

He said this was accomplished in part by ministers who, as tools of the Communists, attempt "to preach economic and political doctrine under the head social welfare and social justice." He said it was the hope of the Communists to "neutralize" the effect of religion on people.

In Loving Memory
Of my husband, Montgomery S. Miller, who pased away December 12th, 1944.

Home's not merly four square walls,
Though with pictures hung and guilded!
Home is where affection calls—
Filled with shrines the heart hath builded!
Home! go watch the faithful dove,
Sailing 'neath the heaven above us.
Home is where there's one to love!
Home is where there's one to love us.
Home's not merely room and room,
It needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet,
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet, and only sweet,
Where there's one we love to meet us!

Presidential Leadership

The American presidency is in continuous evolution and its duties cannot be defined, according to those who have tired to do so. Each president makes his own determination of his duties. The job is never the same for two men.

It may be assumed that Dwight Eisenhower is still making his personal adjustment to the White House. The process takes time.

It took many months for his predecessor, Harry Truman, to overcome his personal sense of inadequacy and acquire the confidence his critics called "cockiness."

Certainly the Franklin D. Roosevelt elected to a third term was not the same kind of man who had been elected to a first term eight year before.

It is not alone the presidency which is in continuous evolution but the men who become presidents. They must learn as they live.

President Eisenhower, who sometimes has seemed to be at a loss for the leadership touch in his dealings with politicians since last Jan. 20, emerged once more as an inspirational leader in his speech before the United Nations Assembly last Tuesday.

This is his best role. The Eisenhower who has made the hearts of men beat more resolutely was the one who dispelled the atmosphere of futility in the United Nations with a half-hour speech last week.

He again was the speaker whose remarks to a massed army of men awaiting the signal to invade Europe made his listeners feel it was a privilege to endanger their lives — the one whose palpable sincerity won and held friends for American principles throughout World War II.

Leadership is surely the heaviest responsibility of an American president — the kind of leadership which can make men look ahead to the horizon, instead of becoming preoccupied with critical examinations of the back of the neck of the man plodding ahead of them.

At a time when politicians are finding fault with the President, who fails in many ways to satisfy their political requirements for presidential conduct, it is reassuring to remember that Dwight Eisenhower was not chosen to occupy the White House by politicians but by the votes of nearly 33,000,000 Americans who liked him because he was not a politician .

He was a leader who had made the hearts of his countrymen beat more resolutely in times of trial.

But No Elephants

An arrangement as logical as a circus train is now the biggest new idea in the transportation industry. It is the "piggy-back" loading of highway trailers on flat cars for long-distance hauls.

The Wall Street Journal reports lively interest in both railroad and truck circles, besides the interest of equipment manufacturers. Railroads could use the freight business. Truckers would be glad to use the railroads at the right price. The public could use fewer outsied vehicles on public roads.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad has been demonstrating the possibilities of piggy-backing for a decade, with profit to itself and some four dozen trucking companies which find it easier to let one engine crew worry about long-haul trailers than to man each trailer with its own crew.

The idea is new. It's exciting. It's dramatic—as dramatic as it used to be when we were kids and got up early to watch the circus train come in with its piggy-back cargo of lumbering equipment wagons, gilded cages, bandwagons and the inevitable steam piano with the "perfessor" standing by to test his arpeggios before the beginning of the colossal parade.

They Prefer Chaos

A Temple University survey of government reorganization has been turned over to the White House with a set of recommendations.

They deal with the one problem government never will solve — how it can be objective about its own shortcomings.

Every survey and every set of recommendations has encountered the stubborn fact that people on the government payroll have a vested interest in keeping things the way they are. To expect them to change anything which would affect their own lives adversely is as foolhardy as to expect rabbits to adopt resolutions against lettuce.

One of the Temple University recommendations, for example, is to convert the Department of Labor into a public-service organization—to make it responsible for the welfare of all Americans who work. The labor unions, through their spokesmen in government, would fight that to a standstill.

Another recommendation would cut from 70 to less than 30 the number of independent agencies in the executive department. This would be an affront to every agency head in danger of losing his authority.

The United States could have an ideal government if it could take advantage of everything it has learned from experience.

But this will never be done as long as the transformation is subject to the veto of those who have learned to thread their way through chaos and wouldn't know how to be happy without it.

Russia Gets the Point

Eisenhower Speech Brings World Nearer Peace

World peace is nearer as a consequence of President Eisenhower's speech before the United Nations Assembly — and the best confirmation comes from Moscow itself.

For, while the Soviet comment on the surface is negative for the moment and does not analyze the proposals to pool atomic-energy knowledge for peaceful uses, the most important fact that President Eisenhower conveyed to the rulers of the Soviet Union evidently hit its mark. Moscow's comments indicate that they got the point—that, if there is an aggression, the retaliation with atomic bombs will be made with all the quantitative force of atomic weapons the United States can instantly mobilize.

-:-

THE MOSCOW radio made this significant comment initially:

"Eisenhower threatened atomic war and made a eulogy of this policy of force."

The Soviet commentator stated a half truth — for Eisenhower did threaten an atomic war of retaliation, but only as against a "surprise aggression." It is important to note what passage attracted the attention of the Soviet government. It was this paragraph in the President's address:

"Should such an atomic attack be launched against the United States, our reactions would be swift and resolute. But for me to say that the defense capabilities of the United States are such that they could inflict terrible losses upon an aggressor — for me to say that the retaliation capabilities of the United States are so great that such an aggressor's land would be laid waste — all this, while fact, is not the true expression of the purpose and the hope of the United States."

-:-

THESE CAREFULLY chosen words struck home. For the Kremlin understands the language of force. Now it has had from the lips of the President of the United States the most solemn warning uttered by one government to another since the close of World War II.

The warning told Soviet Russia it could eliminate any thought that the United States would vacillate in its action in defense of its territory.

With the warning also went this sharply worded sentence to the rulers of Soviet Russia which the people of that country can also understand: "Surely no sane member of the human race could discover victory in such desolation."

-:-

IT MAY WELL BE that the President's words came as a shock to the Soviet government which may have been led to believe heretofore that an America terrorized by the recent news about the destructiveness of the H-bomb would be too scared to announce a policy of fierce retaliation. Now that the Soviets have the American answer — announced by the man who headed up our military forces in Europe in World War II —the problem of what can be done to control the uses of atomic energy for both peace and war becomes more pertinent than ever to both sides.

The Soviet government, upon reflection, will unquestionably perceive that it cannot convert Eisenhower's words into a threat of an attack when they really were uttered as a threat of retaliation only in the event of attack by an aggressor.

SO FAR as world opinion is concerned, the Soviet Union will find it necessary in a matter of days to deal sympathetically with the American proposal for a pooling of atomic-energy knowledge for peaceful purposes.

No matter how much Moscow may quibble and argue, the Soviet government will be compelled in the court of public opinion to make at least a gesture by giving consideration to the Eisenhower plan. Sometimes in diplomacy a government accepts the principle first and then later debates at length the application of the principle. The Communists are too sensitive to propaganda currents in the world today to lose a chance to show that they, too, want atomic energy placed under international control.

-:-

EISENHOWER has shown them the road, and undoubtedly the Communists will take it — but in their own way, slowly and with plenty of protests and with voluble comments and criticism.

The President of the United States has moved the world closer to peace.

What he said had to be said — and from now on the debate may well be academic as the "cold war" drags on and the idea of a "hot war" fades into the distance in the years immediately ahead.

The American rearmament build-up since 1950 has proved its great value this week.

Dear Nephew: I have been thinking about Ebenezer Scrooge, one of my favorite characters Another of my favorites is Shylock, another sound citizen who took the rap for tending to his knitting while featherheads were twittering high - flown nonsense and fooling the public.

Old Ebenezer was a good manager. There was nothing about his behavior which could be criticized from the standpoint of sound administration. All he ever did was to stand on his rights in a society which he found to be overburdened with hopeless incompetents.

He personally had no time to waste on people who didn't know what they wanted or how to get it. As far as he was concerned, you could pretty well tell what they were by the way they mismanaged their own affairs. They just didn't have it, that was all.

If these lived in hovels without enough food on the table it was because they would rather live that way than like uptown, with something put aside for a rainy day. He, himself, never asked for any favors and had made his own way. Yes siree Bob!

Old Scrooge didn't believe in spoiling people with illusions of things that weren't so The old boy was a realist from the word "go." He was a dynamo, he was —a self-made man with money in the bank. Yet with one twist of an authors wrist he was turned into a caricature of everything that is mean and despicable when looked at in the bright and shining light of Christmas.

Whenever it's time to look at him again I chuckle. I also wince. Because for a good part of every year all of us are Scrooges, and some of us, I fear, continue to be Scrooges right through Tiny Tim's cries of delight and that warm scene in the Cratchit's shabby apartment.

We need to remember that Charles Dickens was not making a caricature of Ebenezer Scrooge but a photograph. The wallop was delivered, as it was in almost everything else Dickens wrote, by the fact his character was a credible human being, not an incredible monster.

It was not Scrooge who was exaggerated but one particular aspect of his makeup which clashed with the spirit of Christmas. If it had been Arbor Day instead of Christmas the bulk of favor would have been with Scrooge, not with those good-for-nothing Cractchits who drew hard luck the way a bad farmer draws poverty grass?

When I mention the name of Ebenzer Scrooge, I am careful. I beg the pardon of present company. I ask them to pardon the expression. I explain that while I personally would not want to be accused of criticizing Scrooge for playing his cards close to his vest, Dickens got away with it in "A Christmas Carol" because these things depend on where you stand to look at them.

Or, as in the case of Shylock, it all depends on whether you take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court or let some girl lawyer who should have been disbarred sweet-talk her client out of a jam in a way which would have led to a mistrial in any well run court. Our Supreme Court, the late Justice Holmes dissenting, would have ruled in favor of the plaintiff Shylock, I'll bet.

Are you all ready for Christmas? Have you got your lights lit yet?

Christmas Customs From Many Lands

By John Sherman Walker

The 25th of December is the one day in the year that people, young and old alike, would miss most if a day were to be cut from the calendar. The things that make it what it is have fascinating histories.

Believe it or not, we have to go way back in the annals and thank the pagans for inauguration of the fine old custom. The celebration, like a fabulous snowball, has gathered glamor, tinsel and tradition on its long roll down the centuries.

-:-

THE SATURNALIA of the Romans and the winter festival of the heathen Britons were both celebrated about December 25, the time just after the winter solstice, when the sun-worshippers witnessed the returning strength and warmth of their solar deity as he started his long trip back into summer.

It was the turning time—the Yuletide — which had been observed by tribal Europeans 2,000 years before the birth of Christ.

Not until about 350 A.D. was the date of Christmas set in Rome as December 25 — as much as anything to offset the established pagan festivals with Christian feasts.

Christian and pagan ceremonies gradually blended into the mid-winter event of events. Many of the Christmas customs of today have their origins in Druid rite or Roman ritual.

THE DRUIDS of ancient Saxony venerated the mistletoe, believing it had healing powers. Christianity adopted it as a symbol of the Christ - child's healing touch.

Mistletoe once hung over doorways where greetings were given to long - absent friends. Early Christians exchanged the kiss of peace and good will under the mystic sprig of mistletoe at Christmas. That's why it's still good for a Christmastime kiss.

The sending of gifts can be traced back to the Yule gifts of northern Europe and ancient Rome. The Christian tradition also has the sacred story of the gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh brought as offerings to the Christchild by the Wise Men of the East.

THE MIXTURE of rich spices and other oriental ingredients in the traditional mince pie of the Christmas feast is symbolic of the offerings of the Holy Men at the manger crypt of the infant Christ.

The crust was made originally in oval form, to represent the cradle of the Christ-child, and the varied ingredients were symbols of the gifts laid about the cradle by the Magi.

Christ's sacrifice, his wearing of the crown of crucifixion, is brought to remembrance in the holly wreath — the bright red berries, drops of blood upon his brow, pierced by thorns.

England's hearty yuletide celebration of feasting, drinking and merrymaking almost certainly traces back to the more lusty orgies of the Saturnalia of ancient Rome.

-:-

IN EARLY ENGLAND rich nobles gave Christmas parties lasting for weeks. The festivities, presided over by a "lord of misrule," were marked by hilarious reversal of behavior during the holidays, when servants bossed their masters; and children their parents. The parties were generally loud and lusty affairs, marked by ribaldry and uproar.

For a long time, however, this boisterous interpretation of the glad day caused the gay event to be frowned upon among certain religious groups, both in England and America.

In fact, Puritans who came to America regarded the Christmas celebration as sacrilegious. In the Massachusetts Bay Colony a law against its observance was enacted in 1659. It was repealed in that Christmas was made a legal holiday in Massachusetts.

-:-

EVEN THE DECOROUS candlelit Christmas tree had a cool reception and tardy recognition in America.

In 1851, when the Rev. Henry Schwan, then recently from Germany, spending the first American Christmas with his congregation, set up the first glowing tree at an American Christmas service, in his little church in Cleveland, Ohio, indignant parishioners protested the unheard-of practice—calling it "pagan absurdity," though the custom was common in European countries.

The many and varied versions of why the evergreen has become a part of the Christmas theme surround the aromatic tree with colorful myth and legend.

The ancient pagans, at their Yule festival, are supposed to have hung sacrifices on certain trees in which they believed gods or spirits lived, and from this practice our Christmas custom of decorating trees may have come into tradition.

However, during the middle of the 17th century, the people of the German village of Strasbourg (later French Alsace) were credited with being the first, in comparatively recent times, to trim a Christmas tree for the seasonal celebration.

THEY WENT OUT into the woods and brought back a great evergreen tree, decorating it with colored pastries, candies and fruits. In succeeding years the festive custom spread through Germany, Scandinavia, the British Isles and the whole Christian world.

St. Nicholas was actually a saint —the Bishop of Myra — who lived in the fourth century A.D., although little is definitely known of this man who became the patron saint of schoolboys, and, before long, Father Christmas to the world.

In early times, St. Nicholas was represented as at the side of the Christ-child, distributing gifts. A characteristic story is that by tossing gold through an open window he enabled several dowerless maidens to obtain husbands. He also is said to have dropped a purse down a chimney, which fell into a stocking that happened to be hanging there to dry. And that, it appears, is what made stocking-hanging popular at Christmas.

Salt Water Blandishments

By MARK DANA

The Navy, Air Force and Marines still get no draftees, and apparently neither want nor need them, yet they are stepping up their drive to enlist high school-age youths in the Reserves and are making an increasingly plausible case of their plea.

The Navy in particular is extending the Reserve units, and is going into high schools, when permitted, with this story:

That under the Armed Forces Reserve Act, and induction regulations, six years of inactive Reserve service will be required of draftees following their two years of inducted active duty service;

That young men anticipating induction at 18½ may enlist in the Reserves and "work off" about two years of Reserve membership prior to reaching draft age, leaving only six years of Reserve status after two years of active duty.

That when a Naval Reservist gets his induction notice, he can go into Naval rather than Army service (something which the prideful Navy considers highly preferential), and do his stint in the Navy;

That if during his pre-induction Reserve service he has attained a few rating stripes or maybe some gold braid, he will go on active duty at that rating, whereas (reminds the Navy gleefully) the Army starts its inductees off as private and sometimes takes a long time to decide that a private is first class or as sterling corporal caliber.

The Army and Air Force, of course, make much of their own head-start-giving pre-induction Reserve training, although each simply cannot comprehend how any young man with adequate stuffing between the ears would even look at the other services.

Meanwhile, there has been no indication from responsible sources that induction will appreciably diminish, or will give way to Universal Military Training for a long time to come, whatever our frantic gropings for peace and a normal growing-up for all young men.

The Once Over

Daily Newspaper, I Love You

A big city without newspapers has a deathly quality. The heartbeat of a metropolis is slowed, It is the same feeling, magnified a thousandfold, that a family experiences when a colorful member is lost.

Father Knickerbocker, deprived suddenly of his newspapers, felt as a man feels when long shut in by a blizzard, or when the phone service is discontinued. Or as a youth feels when his first gal moves out of town without warning. It is the feeling you get in a great house when the clock stops abruptly.

Never before had New Yorkers realized fully what a newwpaper meant to them. It had become rather commonplace for people to think of the radio and TV as having made the paper less essential. "I can get along with the broadcasts," Joe Citizen had said often.

This idea found itself washed up before New York had been without newspapers for 48 hours. By the end of three days Pop would have swapped all the radio and TV newscasters for one page of his newspaper; Mom would have sworn off the quiz programs for a look at the society columns and the "obits"; the small fry would have passed up the best TV show on the air for the comic strips.

The newspaper had come out so regularly that people had come to accept it as they accept the sunrise. Other things might fail them but the paper came regularly despite hell and high water. Abruptly the idea that a man could keep hep to events without the Fourth Estate was blitzed. Never did radio and TV seem so inadequate.

Eight million New Yorkers woke up to the stern realization that missing the printed weather forecast, engagement notice, marriage announcement, obiturary, cooking recipe, restaurant guide, book review and Hollywood divorce rumor was like missing a square meal. Folks who didn't think editorials meant much to them found they had unknowingly become editorial addicts.

Men who had read the stock market quotations casually realized that life was dull without them. There were tens of thousands of New Yorkers who would have swapped the greatest TV show for a dramatic column and the play review.

There were just as many who would have exchanged the top airwave comedians for their newspaper columnists, strip cartoons and other features. The crossword puzzle, racing results, and classified ad followers might as well have had eleven days on a rubber raft.

How the housewife missed the daily newspaper prices on meat and potatoes! How the Christmas shoppers missed the Christmas ads! During the newspaperless day the society scandal, the change in a Broadway cast, a good sports page story and even the advertisement "I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, etc.," became of paramount importance.

We would have turned in any 3-D movie, any telecast and any radio entertainment for just a look at an apology for a misspelled name or the story of how two people we didn't know had their car stolen in a town we never heard of by thieves who were too small-time to rate mention. It will be a long time before you will hear any New Yorker chirp, "I didn't get my paper last night. But it didn't make much difference.

I have a radio and TV set." A good newspaper is a combination Bible, calendar, almanac, guide, educational institution, book of knowledge and greatest show on earth. It's a BOX SCORE of life.

The New Jersey Supreme Court has barred the distribution of Bibles in the public schools... The hope that America will be as fearful of the other books the kids are duluged with today is probably premature.

There is now to be a Bi gFour Conference, Russia consenting, and a good fight program is assured.

This is the time of year when millions of people attain new heights of irrascibility as they go about the job of spreading good cheer to all.

A half hour of nuptial music preceded the open church ceremony with Mrs. Robert Rice, organist, and Miss Charlotte Snyder of Columbus, classmate of the bride as soloist.

The double ring ceremony was performed at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. L. L. Young, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cloe Russell of Prospect and Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sprague Jackson of Powell.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of winter white wool with which she combined navy blue accessories. Her bridal bouquet of white button chrysanthemums and pom pons was centered with a white orchid.

Miss Donna Russell, sister of the bride, in a powder blue faille dress and carrying a bouquet of blue carnations and white pompons, attended her sister as maid of honor.

Robert Huber of Powell was the best man and ushers were Edwin Jackson, brother of the bridegroom and Robert Rieger of Canal Winchester.

The bride's mother chose a dress of heather grey Jersey with which she wore a small blue velvet hat and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Jackson wore a dress of navy blue with blue assessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception for 150 guests was in church basement. Serving as hostesses were Mrs. Donna Foos Mrs. Peggy Knickel, Miss Lois Whitemire, Miss Dixie Swihart, Miss Norma Ward, Mrs. Velma Milligan and Mrs. Irene Moser.

The bride is a graduate of Prospect High School and attended White Cross School of Nursing. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of Hyatts High School and attended Ohio State University. He is now engagd in farming.

For their wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a blue grey coat over her bridal dress and the orchid from he bouquet.

On their return the couple will be at home on a farm south of Delaware.

Folk Singer on Program

"OHIO HISTORY Through Ohio Folksongs and Ballads" will be presented in a lecture-recital by Anne Grimes of Columbus, at the Christmas meeting of the Marion Association of University Women Tuesday evening at the YMCA. Dessert will be served at the meeting scheduled for 8 o'clock.

An authority on the musical folklore of her native state, some of the selections presented date to the 1700's and the opening of the Northwest Territory. Many have been sung by Ohioans up to the present time and reflect happenings in the state throughout the years.

Many of the songs have been given to her by people in her audiences, who, having heard her sing, remembered similar songs and ballads sung in their own families or communities. The extent of Ohio's musical heritage has not generally been known either by folklorists of Ohioans themselves.

Mrs. Grimes has appeared before many audiences throughout the midwest, including the Ohioana Library Association, Ohio University Institute for elementary teachers at Athens, Dayton Art Institute and also in radio programs.

Some of her numbers are done traditionally unaccompanied and in others she plays her own accompaniments on the dulcimer and zither.

Her program will be presented in authentic period costume and jewelry which have been designed and collected by her husband, Dr. James W. Grimes. Dr. Grimes, painter and art historian in the Ohio State University School of Fine Arts, is also painting curator for the Ohio Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society. There are five Grimes children ranging in age from four to fourteen years.

Lausche Revives Touchy Issue

Bingo Back in Ohio Political Picture

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bingo is back in the Ohio political picture but politicians regard it as a touchy campaign issue.

Despite that opinion, Democrat Gov. Frank J. Lausche recently seized upon the issue. He expressed his intention to "demonrate through the courts what is and what is not allowable" in the way of bingo.

And he apparently included the promise in his announcement as a candidate for a fifth term as governor. "Racketeering has been fought and substantially destroyed," he said. "The fight must go on with increased vigor."

The governor an implacable foe of commercialized gambling, has expressed conviction that most bingo games operate on a commercial basis. "They are pretended to be for charity," he said, "when in truth they are for private profit."

Lausche cited numerous letters from Ohioans blaming family troubles on bingo played "night after night."

Concerning the effect of an anti-bingo drive on games run for charity by religious and fraternal groups, Lausche said: "I do not coptemplate going into county after county in connection with this problem. We will, through appropriate action, demonstrate through the courts what is and what is not allowable."

He did not elaborate but indicated padlock action might be taken against "night after night" bingo places. Such action would follow the pattern he set in closing gambling houses featuring roulette, dice and other gaming.

Such a move might answer a question raised by C. Watson Hover, Hamilton County prosecutor, who wanted to know how bingo games could be closed. "I find no way under law to convict people for playing charity bingo," Hover said, adding he knew of no "mercenary" bingo games there.

Statewide reports showed bans on bingo were effective in some big cities and a number of smaller ones but that charity games operated in many towns.

Such typical cities as Athens, Chillicothe, Fremont and Van Wert said churches and fraternal groups ran games for charity without interference from enforcement officers.

Survey reports described police as reluctant to move agains church organizations regardless of whether bingo was gambling and thus a violtaion of law.

But Cleveland, the state's big gest city, reported bingo there had gone out of style. Former Mayor Thomas A. Burke banned bingo—charity and otherwise.

'As far as I know," said Police Lt. Martin P. Cooney of the racket squad, "there is no bingo in the city of any kind. There hasn't been for more than a year.

Sheriff Joseph M. Sweeney gave a similar report. "There is no bingo going on in the county of any kind and there won't be," he said. "The last place was in Brookpark, a Veterans of Foreign Wars place that we closed. That was the end. That was two years ago."

Cleveland City Council in 1944 adopted an ordinance to license bingo. Financial statements were required from operators and an oath that proceeds from games were for "charitable purposes."

Sponsors hoped the ordinance would prevent racketeers from moving in on bingo operations but Clevelanders said it didn't. Then an attorney upset the ordinance through court action and Burke's ban followed.

Officials pointed to an incident in the Nov. 3 election as an indication of bingo's lack of favor. A candidate for Cleveland City Council who had operated under a city bingo license, leaked the word during his campaign that he favored return of the games. He ran third in his ward.

The situation appeared quiet in Canton and Stark County where Prosecutor John Rossetti has made it known that he frowns on bingo. Alliance reported no bingo but said some nearby churches held games.

The latest report of any bingo in the area concerned Canton residents who chartered a bus to attend a game in Youngstown Things became quiet after Rossetti, in the spring of 1951, took action to close the Blue Arrow and to padlock similar establishments.

Franklin County officials complained they lacked legal weapons to combat bingo despite Gov. Lausche's hint that he might move against places in the county unless authorities did.

Columbus has closed commercial bingo games. The city recently won a court test of an ordinance that attorneys said other cities could use to banish the games.

The State Supreme Court upheld the Columbus ordinance that hits bingo by fixing penalties for possession of gambling equipment and lottery slips. The operator of a keno game, similar to bingo, challenged the ordinance on grounds it conflicted with state statute.

The court left no doubt about the classification of bingo as gambling. And judges said the Legislature lacked authority to legalize lotteries banned by the state constitution.

The Constitution provides no penalties for lotteries, leaving that up to the Legislature. In 1943, the Legislature inserted a phrase in gambling laws that left courts without penalties for gambling conducted for charitable purposes. Bingo has flourished in many places since then.

Attempts to restore the penalties have failed in the Legislature where members regard th bingo issue as a political hot potato.

Wilmington turned in a report typical of smaller cities that term themselves "free" of bingo. Only the Eagles auxiliary holds a half dozen games a year with proceeds going to the Damon Runyan Cancer Fund.

In Fremont, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Moose lodge run games, reports showed. Both organizations said thy operated the games for chaity.

Ther Catholic chuch and an Eagles lodge operate the only games reported in Athens. Both are for charity.

The Catholic church and two lodges hold charity games in Chillicothe but officials described them as small.

The situation was similar in Van Wert where reports showed the Elks lodge and the Catholic church operated small games.

Big Band From Tiny School Is Clinic's Pride

CHICAGO (AP)—A big band from the smallest school every represented is taking the most attention at the Midwest National Band Clinic this week.

It is the 52-piece high school band from Cresbard, S. D., a town of 218 population. The school has an average enrollment of 70 students.

The director, William E. Klitz, told how the tiny town, 40 miles southwest of Aberdeen, built up the band.

"It was the community spirit which made it possible," He said.

"When we started our music program eight years ago, all we had was a bass drum with a broken head. Today we have an inventory of $18,000 in music, equipment and instruments.

"This is our first out-of-state trip. We were invited to the Rose Bowl two years ago but couldn't go because we couldn't raise the $15,000 it would have cost.

"Then last year we were invited to appear at this clinic. We figured it would cost us about $6,000 to make the trip. That looked possible then. We are in the spring wheat area out there and the crop looked wonderful.

"But a week before harvest the rains came. We had rain for three weeks. Everything was flooded. After the rain ended black stem rust broke out. The crop was a failure. We were ready to kiss our trip goodby.

"And yet by Oct. 1 our school program for the new term was set up and we decided to try to raise that $6,000. That is where the community came to our rescue.

"No tax money was used. But the Faulk Flying Club sponsored a benefit, the parents chipped in despite the crop failure and there were even a few donations from outside the community to make up the $6,000."

HOME ADDRESS

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP) — When a 38-year-old man appeared before Judge Charles R. Summa, he maintained he shouldn't be charged with vagrancy because he had a home. The court looked at his long record and said, "Your arrest record shows that you will have a home—on Whalley Ave." That is the location of the New Haven county jail.

Harding and St. Mary Quintets Suffer First Defeats

Presidents Overcome Early Deficit, Drop 74-71 Verdict

By JOHN SHORT

Harding's Presidents suffered their first loss of the basketball season last night when they were handed a 74-71 setback at Columbus West.

Big thorn in the side of the Prexies was Jim Vincent, 5-9 forward for the Cowboys. He was the spearhead of the West attack and the backbone of the defensive play.

Misses Record

The speedy star missed equaling the all-time scoring mark at the school by a single point. He pumped in 33 markers before fouling out with 16 seconds remaining to play. He notched that total on 14 field goals and five points from the foul line.

The loss came after four straight wins for Coach Jim Lawler's charges. It evened the season mark for the Cowboys at three wins and three losses.

West scored first and after Bob Hamor dropped in a two-pointer pulled ahead to stay until the Prexies knotted the count at 16-all with a minute and 35 seconds remaining in the period. Ron Conroy dropped in two foul shots to knot the count. For the first part of the second period, the Prexies managed to keep on the backs of the Cowboys but with four minutes to go Vincent hit on a jump shot to put his mates ahead by five points. Before the half ended West had moved out front by six points and led 37-31.

An early spurt in the third stanza gave West a substantial lead and the verdict appeared sealed when Harding trailed by 13 points with less than five minutes to go. Vincent had sparked his mates into a 40-33 lead.

Prexies Rally

Then Conroy dropped in a charity throw to light the spark. Donnie Smith followed with two quick fielders and Dave Schnelker and Doug Bibler dropped in a pair to cut the deficit to 46-42. Hamor's free throw made it 46-43 before West could score again. Smith dropped in another pair of goals, Hamor scored two from the foul line, Conroy hit from the corner and Bibler dropped in a foul shot to make the count 54-51 at the start of the final period.

Schnelker opened the final stanza with a foul shot and a field goal to knot the score and before the period was two minutes old Conroy laid one in to shove Harding ahead for the first time 56-55. The lead changed hands five times before Harding gained a three-point margin with slightly more than four minutes to go. Schnelker scored from the foul line and then batted in a rebound to give the Prexies a 64-61 cushion. Vincent and Charles Hicks took over then and eased the Cowboys into a 68-66 edge. From that point the Prexies were out of the game. The three-point edge at the final whistle was as close as they could get.

The entire starting five for Harding hit for double figures in the scoring column. Hamor was the big gun with 20. Conroy came in with 15, Schnelker connected for 13, Smith had 11 and Bibler netted 11. Max Kaelber added the other two points. Vincent and Hicks with 12 were the big guns for West.

Reserves Lose

The Harding reserves suffered a 59-50 loss for their first loss of the season. The Vice Presidents fell behind 13-12 at the end of the first stanza and trailed at the half 26-22. They came storming back to knot the count at 39-39 at the start of the final frame.

Dave Lockwood and Lowell McFann sparked the Vice Presidents with 12 points each. Joe Furry with 23 was high for the West futures.

In the varsity action, a total of 48 fouls were called, 24 against each team. The Prexies hit 21 of 38 shots for a 55 per cent mark from the free throw line. They connected on 25 of 74 shots from the field for a 33 per cent average.

The Cowboys lost Vincent, Ruffner and Hicks by the foul route while Harding lost Conroy and Smith.

Iowa Football Mentor Signs Ten-Year Pact

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — A new 10-year contract was being readied for University of Iowa head Football Coach Forest Evashevski today and Evy says he's "very happy with the entire deal."

Evashevski arrived in Iowa City from Chicago last night, still with no official notification of the new contract.

But the Iowa State Board of Education, which approved the long-term pact in Des Moines yesterday, said his signature would be only a formality.

"I'm happy at Iowa," Evashevski said when informed in Chicago that the board had voted to approve the pact. "I hope to make roots, deep roots at Iowa."

Evy now has a five year contract calling for a salary of $15,000 a year. The new, longer-term document, which will supercede the old one as soon as it is signed, fixes his salary at that same amount.

Browns' Pass Receivers Set For Final Tilt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Cleveland's Browns, trying to pin down their first undefeated season since 1948, close out their regular season tomorrow against Philadelphia's in-or-out Eagles.

The Browns, who already have clinched a spot in the National Football League's interdiviion playoff for the pro championship, will all be in uniform for the game except Tommy Thompson, the big linebacker who dislocated his knee against Pittsburgh.

That means the Eagles will have plenty of pass catchers to keep track of when Otto Graham and George Ratterman are throwing.

Coach Paul Brown, almost sure any one of his top receivers can shake a single defensive back, watches to see which are being doubleteamed and then directs the quarterbacks to throw to the others.

Last week the big receiver was end Darrell Brewster. But if the Eagles keep close checks on him, the passers can throw to end Dante Lavelli or three speedy halfbacks—Ray Renfro, Dub Jones and Billy Reynolds.

Cleveland thumped the Eagles, 37-13, earlier this season, but Brown does not take much optimism from that.

SEC Sets Limit On Student Aid

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The Southeastern Conference has adopted a new rule limiting new football scholarships to 40 a year beginning Dec. 7, 1954.

This was described in some circles as a curb to football recruiting practices. League members still will be able to award 140 scholarships for all sports.

The new rule was adopted yesterday as the 21st annual meeting came to a close.

A committee will be appointed, possibly within the coming week, to study the possibility of a tieup between the conference and one of the postseason bowls.

Sugar Bowl officials stated earlier they were definitely interested in such an arrangement with the league. It was understood that Cotton Bowl officials were interested too.

Upper Sandusky Rifle Club Beaten by Findlay

UPPER SANDUSKY—Mrs. Helen Cramer fired a 293 cut of a possible 300 to outscore her husband and lead the Findlay Rifle Club to a victory over the Upper Sandusky Rifle Club Tuesday evening.

Her husband, Harry Cramer, was second high-man for the Findlay team.

Mrs. Cramer fired a perfect 100 from the prone position, 99 out of 100 from the kneeling position and 94 out of 100 off hand.

Both the Upper Sandusky and Findlay clubs are members of the Southern Division of the Northwest Ohio Rifle Association.

Bevo Sets New Mark; Collects 82 at Bluffton

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP)— Clarence (Bevo) Francis, who re-wrote the basketball record book last season only to have his efforts rejected by the NCAA, holds another mark today—82 points for a small college single game.

Francis hit on 63 per cent of his shots last night, scoring 36 times from the field and adding 10 free throws as his Rio Grande College defeated Bluffton 116-71.

Francis scored 116 points in one game last year but that achievement along with several others, including a season's total of 1954 points, failed to gain NCAA recognition because Rio Grande played many junior colleges.

Meeker Downs Defending Champions, Still Unbeaten

Prospect led most of the way in upending Claridon, last year's county tournament winners, on the Prospect floor.

Bob Kelly's squad took a seven-point, 31-24, lead at the half which it maintained the rest of the route. The taller Claridon team trailed 10-9 at the opening quarter.

A capacity crowd watched the Prospect crew hand Claridon its first loss of the season. The winners maintained their seven-point bulge in the third period and increased it to nine at games' end.

Rodgers Big Gun

Bob Rodgers was the big gun for the winners with 19 points. Ronald Wood added 14. Gary "Bud" Price was high man for the losers with 24 markers.

The loss dealt a hard blow to the title hopes of Claridon which went into the game tied with two other teams for the county league lead. It marked Prospect's second league win in as many starts.

Prospect also copped the preliminary tilt as the Prospect JV's came through with a 33-21 win. Bruce Emery had nine points and George Moser eight for the winners. Castle dropped in 10 for the losers. Prospect entertains Magnetic Springs Tuesday night.

Meeker piled up an early lead to defeat Waldo on the losers' floor. It was Waldo's first loss in county league play.

The winners led for most of the way but Waldo knotted the count at 44-44 with only 30 seconds remaining in the contest. However, Meeker made good on the first of two foul shots and tipped in the second to go ahead for keeps.

Waldo cut the margin to one point on a basket moments later but the winners sealed the game with another basket. Waldo took an 8-6 lead in the first quarter but the winners came back to go out front 16-12 at halftime as both teams encountered difficulty in finding the basket.

Ron Newland paced the Meeker team with 15 points. Dick Sharp added 13. High for Waldo was Keith Augenstein with 19 markers.

Waldo won the reserve match 37-26 as Bob Smith totaled 14 points and also won the junior high tilt. Waldo is at LaRue Friday.

Pleasnat Wins First

Pleasant gained its initial win of the year by downing a hapless Martel crew on the losers' court. The loss was the third straight in league play for the losers.

Pleasant roared ahead 22-10 in the first quarter and increased its margin to 40-15 at intermission, to coast to victory. The losers sliced the winners' margin to 53-38 at the three-quarter mark but fell behind farther in the final round.

Jerry Gorby paced the Pleasant offensive with 32 points. His performance came on 13 buckets. John Freshour added 11. Barden with 21 led the Martel team.

Pleasant's reserves notched a 37-30 win in the preliminary as Bob Lill and Sharrell Leffler each dropped in eight points. Baer had nine for the losers.

Morral's cagers remained at the top of the county league picture by drubbing Green Camp on the winners' floor.

Coach Vern Hensel's squad was in command for three quarters, holding a 3-35 bulge, and a 26-point spree by ht. enrs ols ie point spree by the losers in the final round wasn't enough.

The winners moved out front 22-8 in the opening period and widened the gap to 41-24 at halftie.

Morral's Third

While it was Morral's third straight win in county league action, the game marked Green Camp's third straight reversal of the season in league play.

John Craycraft paced Morral's attack with 24 points. Clair Hensel added 20 while Jim Shifflet dropped in 11 and Charles Rice 10. Al Stover and Louis Finch each with 17 points were tops for the losers.

Morral made it a clean sweep with the victory in the varsity encounter. Morral's futures had earlier drubbed Green Camp 50-17 as Manny Saxton hit for 13 points and Bob Williams added 11 and the Morral Junior High squad won its encounter. Morral is at Meeker Friday.

Morral stood alone at the top of the Marion County League basketball chase today after a pair of surprises in Friday night's league action.

While the Morral squad was rolling to its third straight league victory in as many starts, two other clubs previously tied with Vern Hensel's squad were dropping loop starts.

Meeker's improved quintet edged Waldo, last year's league pennant winners, handing it its first league loss, while Prospect defeated Claridon, last year's county tournament champs. It was Claridon's first league loss in three starts.

Friday's action left Prospect and Meeker the only undefeated fives in county league play in addition to Morral. Both are tied for second spot with 2-0 marks while Claridon and Waldo now hold down third spot with identical 2-1 marks.

LaRue Wins

LaRue ran its season record to 3-2 by dropping Marseilles 74-55 in a non-league game on the winner's floor.

The winners pulled away in the final quarter after both clubs went into the final stanza tied at 43-43. LaRue held an 18-15 edge at the opening quarter and led 28-26 at halftime.

Larry Hickman was the big gun for the LaRue team with 29 points. Raymond Hosey added 18 and Gene Cooper hit for 14. Redding with 17 topped the Marselles scoring.

Marseilles copped the reserve tilt 44-26 with Pfeiffer and Oliver dropping in 16 apiece for the winners. Phil Blue had ten for LaRue. LaRue Junior High School dropped Grand Prairie earlier in a county league match.

Waldo is at LaRue next Friday.

Detroit Meets Giants in Last Shot at Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League winds up its scheduled season tomorrow with three teams having very definite reasons for wanting to end the campaign on a victory note.

The Cleveland Browns, already winner of the Eastern Conference title, want to defeat the Philatelphia Eagles so they'll have an unbeaten year—the third in league history.

The Detroit Lions need a victory over the New York Giants to assure them of the Western Conference crown and a spot in the playoffs against the Browns Dec. 27.

And the San Francisco 49ers must whip the Baltimore Colts to keep alive their title chance should the Lions lose. A Detroit defeat and a San Francisco victory would entail a playoff in the West coast city Dec. 20.

Also at stake is the little matter of second place in both conferences worth a few hundred dollars to each player. Philadelphia and Washington are tied for the urnner-up spot back of Cleveland, each with a 6-4-1, record. Washington has the much easier assignment tomorrow in its clash with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Los Angeles' Rams, who lost to Detroit in the Western Conference playoff last year, can get into the money only if they whip the Green Bay Packers today and the 49ers lose to the Colts.

The traditional Chicago Cardinals-Chicago Bears contest has no bearing on the money distribution. The Cards have only a tie to show for 11 games while the Bears have a 3-7-1 mark.

If the Browns defeat the Eagles, and they figure to do so, they'll match the unbeaten seasons of the Bears in 1934 and 1942. Both years, however, the Bears lost in the title game.

Owens Resigns, Giants Looking For New Coach

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York football Giants were in the market for a new head coach today, one they hope will restore them to the top rung in the National Football League.

The search began yesterday when Steve Owen announced his retirement after 23 years at the club's helm. He will remain with the organization as the head man in an expanded scouting system.

An unconfirmed report had it that Vinnie Lombardi, former Fordham star and now backfield coach at Army under Earl Blaik, would get the job. Giant President Jack Mara declined to discuss the prospective candidates but he did say the new man would be appointed in time to attend the league meetings next month.

Owen's resignation doesn't become effective until after Sunday's games with the defending champion Detroit Lions at the Polo Grounds. A victory for Detroit will give it another Western title, but should the Lions lose and San Francisco triumph over Baltimore the clubs will be tied and a playoff will be necessary.

The 55-year-old Owen led the Giants to eight Eastern titles, the last in 1946, and two league championships.

Irish Drop League Opener To Mt. Gilead Team 53-51

By GARY SAMS

St. Mary's Irish dropped a heart-breaking 53-51 decision to Mt. Gilead in the Mid-Ohio Conference cage opener for both teams on the winners' court Friday night.

The winners tied the score at 51-51 with slightly over a minute left in the tilt and then Ted Moody of the Indians dropped in a long one with seven seconds remaining for the margin of victory.

Passing Erratic

Bad passing in the final minutes of action by the locals cost them the win. The fighting Irish took the lead late in the third period which they held and increased to eight points in the dying moments of the final stanza. the side by John Mosier climaxed

Coach Ray Robbins' crew went into a deliberate style of play with a 50-43 lead and only four minutes remaining but then the roof caved in. Erratic passing gave the ball to Mt. Gilead during the final moments of the game and the hosts went on the spurge which netted them their second win of the campaign.

Two successive fielders from the side by John Mosier climaxed the Mt. Gilead uprising. His first with 1:36 left in the contest pulled Les Grace's squad to within two points of the Irish and his second only 18 seconds later set the stage for the winning goal by Moody. A bucket with 2:56 showing on the scoreboard clock sent the winners on their way and pair of foul shots by John Bachelder, 6-4½ center, at the 2:04 mark cut the Irish margin to 51-47 and kept the winners moving.

Winners Use Height

The taller Indians used their height to good advantage in the first quarter and zoomed into an 18-9 lead. St. Mary fell behind by that margin after the first of many long jump shots by Mike Anderson had pulled the Irish to within a point of the winners at 7-6.

St. Mary didn't get another fielder until Anderson pumped one in at the close of the quarter but then the ball-hawking Irish began to close the gap. A long one by Mosier boosted the winners in front 20-9 but then a foul shot by Jerry Ballenger at the 6:41 mark signaled the beginning of the Irish surge.

Anderson personally took over to place the locals back in the game. Two long shots by the red-headed sharp shooter with lay-ups by Roger Micheli and Larry Ryan sandwiched in cut the Indian margin to 20-18.

Moody and Mosier, who paced the winners with 17 points apiece, then hit to put Mt. Gilead out front 25-20 before Anderson again took over. Two fielders by last year's leading Irish scorer and a pair of foul shots enabled the locals to tie the score at 26-26 with 1:01 remaining in the first half but two long shots by Phil Schrader helped the winners along to a 32-28 margin at intermission.

The locals pulled to within a single point of Mt. Gilead twice early in the third canto but it wasn't until late in the quarter they were able to knot the count and go ahead for the first time. A hook shot by Larry Ryan sliced the margin to 32-31 and a two-pointer by Anderson later closed the gap to 34-33 but it took a long shot by Roger Micheli and another by Anderson at the 2:57 mark to tie the score at 37-37, the third deadlock of the game.

Irish Take Lead

St. Mary went ahead for the initial time 20 seconds later on an easy lay-up by Jack McNamara but the Indians came back to knot the count at 39-39 on a pair of charity tosses by Moody and Larry White.

Ryan, Ballenger and Jack O'Keeffe dropped in foul shots during the remaining minute and 40 seconds of the rough third quarter for a 42-39 bulge the Irish never gave up until the fateful final minutes of the last stanza.

Big Three

By George Sokolsky

There is really nothing to report about the Big Three Conference. A press release was issued but it tells little that helps to understand what agreements have been reached. Perhaps five or ten years from now some congressional committee will produce the decisions that the Three Wise Men reached at Bermuda.

SOKOLSKY

It might be said that this is a cynical attitude; it might also be said that Eisenhower, Churchill an Laniel could not give their hands away, that they must be secretive lest Malenkov know all their plans.

-:-

THAT WAS, in effect, the answer to all inquires concerning the Yalta Conference, but Alger Hiss was present at that one, just as Harry Dexter White was present at Bretton Woods.

Open diplomacy has really never been practiced in human history, but Woodrow Wilson spoke of it as an end to be attained. Wilson himself engaged in secret diplomacy at the Paris Conference, making a deal regarding Shantung which had the effect of starting China on the pro-Russian path from which all the world is still suffering.

Wilson could not produce an open covenant openly arrived at because the shop-trained diplomats were horrified at the idea of the peoples of the world knowing about their own business

Harry Hopkins was not the first to believe that the people are too dumb; he may have been the first to say it out loud.

-:-

IF WE BELIEVE what we are told, the Big Three accomplished in four days of talk nothing more concrete than that a Big Four Conference on the foreign ministers level be called for January 4 in Berlin if Adenauer of Germany agrees.

The assumption from that must be that an agenda or a formulation has also been worked out which requires Adenauer's approval.

This leads to the further conclusion that the unification of Germany is to be the main subject for discussion.

It is unbelieveable that Winston Churchill did not propose a conference with Malenkov. That has been his pet for too long a period for anyone to accept the notion that Churchill was silent about it.

-:-

ON THE OTHER HAND, as no invitation has been publicly addressed to Malenkov, all we can do is wait and see. Unless we are told about what Eisenhower said to Churchill, we must assume that the subject came up and was not carried further.

Malenkov does not want a Big Four Conference on the highest level. He wants a Big Five Conference, including not only himself but Mao Tze-tung.

Even Winston Churchill must recognize, as a practical politician, that no president of the United States can sit down with Mao Tze-tung while the blood of Americans, shed not in war but in prison camps, is still on his hands.

True, at this moment most Americans are so anxious about reduced taxes that they are somewhat apathetic toward many questions of honor and dignity, but they are beginning to realize what a brutal trimming we got at the hands of the Chinese Communists.

-:-

THE INVESTIGATIONS of Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan of atrocities, too long suppressed, are just beginning to add humiliation to insult.

Furthermore, the question of seating Red China in the United Nations is always on tap and it is impossible that Sir Winston Churchill did not grunt something on this subject.

Again, it must have been clear, even to Sir Winston, who could rationalize giving Poland to Russia after his country had gone to war to save Poland from partition by both Russia and Germany — even he must realize that any agreement to seat Red China would today produce a major political crisis in the United States.

CONGRESS HAS already passed a resolution on the subject and it is altogether probably that were such an agreement made, Congress would withdraw our country from the United Nations by voting no appropriations. Even President Eisenhower could not stem the tide.

The Three Wise Men must have complained to each other about the terrible people each has in his own country — Laniel's Communists, Churchill's Socialists, and Eisenhower's Republicans, miserable people who believe what they think is true and refuse to compromise for expediency.

It is tough to try to run a country in which the opposition is free to oppose. It is so much easier for Malenkov. Look how easily he managed about Beria!

Brother Reds

By Victor Riesel

We've got the facts of the conspiracy—now let me give you some figures on the scope of Soviet infiltration into our government.

RIESEL

There were at least 1,000 federal employes who were bad security risks or disloyal or under the discipline of Moscow's MVD police in this country.

Of these, at least 100 were top agents who were in direct contact with the Russian secret police, the Soviet embassy and consular officials or such couriers as Betty Bentley and Whittaker Chambers.

I'm still counting, but the record of years of testimony reveals that they infiltrated at least 58 important government agencies, in which they made policy, and through which they planted men who even today are in the very gut of our armament industry.

AT THE SAME time, they placed their people, according to testimony before government agencies, in 13 of the topmost sensitive spots in our governing system.

Through these 13 policy making positions, some of which put them at the right hand of our presidents, they were able either to control or direct the work of nine of the highest wartime liaison subcommittee which briefed chief executives and Cabinet members on the most secret data of our struggle for civilization.

Through these nine liaison squads they were able to place themselves on at least 25 government inter-departmental committees which formulated our postwar policies.

It would take a king-sized federal agency to break down into similar figures the Soviet's infiltration into our overseas war machine intelligence services, including the super secret OSS and the Allied Military Government, an aparat which tried hard, but futilely, to throw Europe's powerful unions and all of Germany into Soviet hands.

-:-

ONCE THESE AGENTS, and the men and women who took party discipline, slipped into federal service, who promoted them? That's no longer a mystery. They promoted themselves!

Almost all of those exposed by government and congressional agencies over the past 15 years had some connection with at least one, and sometimes several, other exposed infiltraters.

This, of course, can be documented. They used each other's names for reference on applications for federal employment.

They hired each other as Harry Dexter White did with Gregory Silvermaster, and Major William Ullman and Frank Coe. They promoted each other. They raised each other's salaries.

They transferred each other from bureau to bureau, from department to department, from congressional committee to congressional committee.

They assigned each other to international missions. They vouched for each other's loyalty and protected each other when exposure threatened.

They often had common living quarters—such as Mr. Silvermaster, Mrs. Silvermaster and Major Ullman.

-:-

THERE HAVE been investigations since mid-1939. Of those discovered, at least 10,000 were ousted via the loyalty and FBI and Civil Service activities since June 20, 1940.

Of course, not all of these were spies. Hundreds were bad security risks. Others were disloyal. Or members of disloyal organizations. So they went.

But not fast enough to keep them from those 13 top spots in our government. Which doesn't give the full picture because one of the 13 was Alger Hiss, the open faced boy from Baltimore who himself wound up on 18 special top secret projects.

Among the 13 were men who picked out bombing targets for the Allied High Command; men who ran much of the Treasury Department or who had such offices as executive assistant to the president of the U. S.; men who shaped the direction of the labor movement so that Sovieteers today can cripple defense production and siphon off secrets by merely processing the legitimate grievances of their honest American working class members.

-:-

OF THE THOUSANDS in this infiltration phalanx, two have been punished. The others are living comfortable, high salaried lives. Do these men, many of them brilliant, realize what they've done. Are they contrite?

For the answer, I give you the replies of one ex-government official, Victor Perlo, on being questioned by Senate probers:

"Were you, in fact, the head of an espionage ring during the war?"

Perlo refused to answer on the ground that it might incriminate him.

Later he was asked, "Do you know who invaded South Korea?" He retorted, "Well, I don't know that anybody invaded South Korea. I have seen very powerful evidence indicating the possibility that the shoe was on the other foot."

Which government do you think Perlo worked for while he was in our government service?

Ring Physician Wins Walker Service Plaque

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Vincent A. Nardiello, 65-year-old New York State Athletic Commission physician, today was voted the James J. Walker Memorial Plaque for long and meritorious service to boxing by the Boxing Writers Assn., which also named Floyd Patterson Rookie of the Year for 1953.

Dr. Nardiello, Patterson and welter champ Kid Gavilan, who was voted the Edward J. Neil Plaque yesterday, will receive their awards at the annual dinner of the association Jan. 14. The rookie award has been renamed the James J. Dawson Plaque in memory of the late boxing writer for the New York Times.

For about 2 years, Dr. Nardiello has been the official attending physician at Madison Square Garden events. In addition to boxers, he attends to injured rodeo performers and hockey players.

A former lightweight and featherweight boxer under the name of Jimmy Sheppard in his med school days, Dr. Nardiello was the first to suggest several safety measures since adopted by the New York Boxing Commission. Measures such as five-day prefight exams, eye tests and others were proposed by him.

Barons Beat League-Leading Hawks

Victory Gives Marion Tie For Second Spot in IHL Race

Special To The Star

CINCINNATI — Marion Barons, overcoming an early deficit, went on to surprise the first-place Cincinnati Mohawks, 4-2, last night, before a crowd of 2,932.

The loss was only the second of the season for the Hawks on their home ice, and interrupted a streak of seven successive victories for the Cincinnati club on its own rink.

By winning, Marion evened its season's series with Cincinnati at two games apiece and at the same time picked up valuable ground on the International Hockey League's pacesetting outfit.

The win lifted the Barons temporarily into a second-place tie with Johnstown. The tie will be broken, however, tonight. The Barons are idle while Johnstown meets Grand Rapids. The Grand Rapids team is only one point behind the Barons and Jets.

Tony Poeta, speedy wingman for Marion, was injured in the game last night. He suffered a facial cut and eight stitches were required to close a cut above his right eye. Club officials said he would be ready for action when Grand Rapids appears in Marion tomorrow.

Vern Jones tallied twice for the winners, while Gordie Vejprava chipped in with his twenty-second marker of the campaign and Dutch Delmonte closed out the point-making for the Barons.

Cincinnati took the lead at 17:12 of the opening period, when Duke Edmundson blasted home a tally on a pass from Connie Broden. That advantage held up until the dying stages of the second period, when two goals within 62 seconds put the visitors ahead to stay at 2-1. Vejprava tallied the first of these on relays from Murray Wilkie and Vern "Wimpy" Jones. Just over a minute later, Vern Jones made it 2-1 on passes from Vejprava and Coach Ott Heller.

Two more tallies, one for each team, enlivened the final canto, with Delmonte opening the firing at the 28-second mark on passes from Hal Jones and Ken Schultz. Mohawk Defenseman Mickey Keating put Cincinnati back in the running after 57 seconds had elapsed on a pass from Broden, as his blue line shot caught the corner of the net.

The clincher for Marion came at 9:30 of the final period when Vern Jones picked up a loose puck and broke away to tally. Marion Goalie Lou Crowdis had 35 saves to but 18 for Charlie Hodge of Cincinnati.

First Period

Scoring: Edmundson (Broden) 17:12.
Penalties: McLenhan (boarding) 7:57; Delmonte (slashing) 9:53; White (high sticking) 14:26; Edmundson (broken stick) 17:30; Brklacich (misconduct) 20:00.

Big Ten Lifts Probation Over Michigan State

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten has officially removed any doubt about the current good standing of Michigan State, the team it selected for the Rose Bowl.

The conference's faculty representatives, by unanimous vote, decided last night to remove the East Lansing Spartans from probation.

The action followed a report by Commissioner Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson that MSC had satisfactorily met all terms of the probation.

It was Wilson who last February put the Spartans on their good behavior because of the activities of the Spartan Foundation, Inc. This off-the-campus booster group allegedly helped recruit and aid MSC athletes.

At the time, Wilson decreed the probation for a year but said it might be lifted by Big Ten chiefs any time the Spartans proved they had their athletic house in order.

The Spartan Foundation was dissolved long before the school was placed on probation. The issue, as far as Wilson was concerned, was whether a complete record of foundation funds and activities would be made readily available to the commissioner.

Golf Tempers Flaring During Miami's Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Scores and tempers were running high today as the touring golf stars entered the third round of the $10,000 Miami Open tournament—their last workout of the year.

Perhaps the players are burned out after a hard 1953 campaign. Spectators could think of no other reason for these strange happenings during yesterday's second round:

1. Julius Boros, the 1952 National Open champion, quit in disgust after taking 109, four over par, for the first 27 holes over the flat and normally easy Miami Springs municipal course.

2. Johnny Palmer, the solid competitor from North Carolina, failed to qualify for the third round with his 72-74—146, six strokes over par.

3. Sam Snead threw a ball away in anger after missing a two-foot putt.

4. Lew Worsham, the year's top money winner, and Tommy Bolt left broken clubs on the course.

5. Art Wall Jr., the first-day leader, got into a violent argument with photographers who took his picture during a round in which he skidded into a fourth-place tie.

The pros complained that the greens of the 6,570-yard course were too grainy, but local players said the greens were in better shape than usual. The pros said it was too windy, but Miami's breezes yesterday were comparatively mild and there was hardly any wind at all during Thursday's first round.

The cause of the mediocre shooting was a mystery, but one thing was sure: there'll be big galleries out today to see what is going to happen next.

Husky Doug Ford, second biggest money winner of the year, led going into the third round with 135, five strokes under par. The consistent Yonkers, N. Y., pro had a two-stroke margin over Al Brosch, Garden City, L. I., and Fred Wampler, Indianapolis.

Wall, who shot a 73 to go with his first-day 65, dropped into a fourth-place tie at 138 with Snead; Ed Furgol, St. Louis; Steve Warga, Miami; and Shelley Mayfield, Chicopee, Mass.

IHL Playoffs Set At League Meeting

Six-team post-season playoffs for the International Hockey League were decided upon yesterday at a meeting of the league's board of directors in Troy. The league is composed of nine teams.

The playoffs were tentatively scheduled to open March 16 and will last two days on home ice of the two participating teams, the Associated Press reported. The top two teams in the final standings will play a best of seven series, the winner meeting the surviver of two best of three rounds among the other playoff teams. The finals will be best of seven for the Turner Trophy.

Secretary-Treasurer Fred A. Huber Jr. of Detroit reported all teams were in good financial condition.

Davis Spots Weight Edge to DeMarco

BOSTON (AP)—Teddy (Red Top) Davis, New England lightweight titlist from Hartford, Conn., will spot Tony DeMarco, Boston's current boxing favorite, about eight pounds tonight when they meet in a 10-rounder at the Boston Garden.

The bout will be carried nationally by ABC television, starting at 9 p.m., EST. New England will be blacked out of the telecast.

Davis, now weighing 132, boasts that he will give away as much as 18 pounds if the purse is big enough.

St. John's Loses

Duquesne Wins First Big Test, Whips Wake Forest

NEW YORK (AP)—The powerful Dukes of Duquesne glided by their first major basketball test so easily that the question today was "Who's going to stop them?"

Playing the first game in Pittsburgh's four - team Steel Bowl tournament, Duquesne defeated Wake Forest, last season's Southern Conference champions, 76-61, using reserves most of the second half.

The Deacons from the South figured to be a major hurdle in Duquesne's campaign for national prominence, particularly since they beat North Carolina State earlier in the week.

But the Dukes never had to apply the pressure. They led by 16 points at the half and used the full 12-man squad before it was over. Dickie Hermic of Wake Forest salvaged the scoring honors with 23 points. Dick Ricketts got 19 and Si Green, highly touted sophomore forward, 17 for the winners.

Captain Dutch Burch sank a field goal with three seconds to play as Pittsburgh upset Bradley 66-64 in the other Steel Bowl game.

Touring Texas Christian, defending Southwest Conference champion, bowed to Brigham Young of the Skyline Conference 59-48. The Skyline teams had success elsewhere too, with Wyoming beating Creighton 71-65, Utah taking the measure of Loyola of Los Angeles 87-56 and Utah State whipping Montana State 77-66.

George Washington, one of the better teams in the Mid-Atlantic area, rallied in the second half for an 81-67 Southern Conference decision over Richmond.

St. John's of Brooklyn, a finalist in last year's National Invitation Tournament, still is having trouble finding the right combination this season. The Redmen won their third straight, 75-53, at the expense of Fairfield, but it was close through the first half.

Al Lipson scored 22 points as North Carolina opened it collegiate scheduled with a 71-61 victory over William and Mary.

Rio Grande and Bevo Francis returned to small college competition and Bevo promptly scored 82 points, bettering the listed small college record of 72 points set by Nate DeLong of River Falls, Wis., and the major college mark of 73 by Bill Mlkvy of Temple. Last night's score was 116-71 over Bluffton (Ohio) College. Bevo scored more than 100 points last season but it was against a junior college outfit.

In other games Rice beat Sam Houston 89-77; Seattle outscored Pepperdine College 94-85; California edged San Jose State 56-48; Southern California tripped Hawaii 60-46; and Washington State defeated Gonzaga 60-49.

Kenton Wins Third, Sinks Carey 64-60

KENTON — The Kenton Wildcats racked up their third straight win here last night with a 64-60 verdict over Carey. The winners were forced to come from behind after trailing at the first quarter 21-14 and at the half 38-28.

Virgil Deardorff dumped in 17 points to pace the locals while Tom Waddle had 10. Jack Jacoby was high for the Devils with 20 and Dennison added 19. The Carey reserves took the preliminary game 40-30.

Christmas Program Set for Crawford Children's Home

GALION — The Christmas season is in full swing at the Crawford County Children's Home, Winchester Road, here.

Many events have been planned by various groups for the pleasure of the youngsters who live there. These will be climaxed by the annual Christmas party which is slated for Saturday night, Dec. 19, and planned by superintendent of the Home, Marvin Adams, and Mrs. Adams. At that time, the children will receive their Christmas gifts and there will be special entertainment and refreshments. Contributions from individuals and groups, money from sales tax stamps, and funds derived from the sale of Christmas trees which the youngsters are now sponsoring, will be used to pay expenses of the party.

Activities of the season began as early as Dec. 3 when the Young Peoples Temperance Council of Holmes-Liberty, in charge of Mrs. Ruth Pfahler, presented a program and provided a t. t for the youngsters on that evening. Saturday night a group of professional musicians of Marion, under the direction of Fannie Benson of the Marion County juvenile court, will appear at the Home for a program. Still another date is the evening of Dec. 17 when the FHA of Mt. Zion will come to the Home to present a program. On Dec. 20, many of the children will leave the home for a holiday visit in the home of relatives.

The youngsters' sale of Christmas trees opened this week.

"Why don't they tell the whole story?" he said. "The public is entitled to all the facts from the Police Board and the FBI."

Shoulders, who resigned from the police force soon after the inquiry started, said he wanted the public to know the truth "as I gave it under oath." His resignation has not been accepted.

Outgrowth of Probe

The Boston Post quoted an unidentified subcommittee source as saying the Project Lincoln investigation is an outgrowth of the Ft. Monmouth probe.

4. McCarthy announced last night he has received a list of about 125 persons he said had been Communists in Germany and later found jobs in the office of the U. S. high commissioner of Germany through "infiltration."

Project Lincoln has been under way since August 1951 but is existence was disclosed only last March. MIT reported to the National Security Council, the government's top defense planning body, that the United States could build a truly effective air defense for about 20 billion dollars. But it made no recommendation that such an effort be undertaken. Details of the report have never been made public, although an Air Force spokesman has said some of its recommendations have been adopted, others rejected.

Korea

Korea reached an agreement in talks Friday on a course for the preliminary peace negotiations. He said he reviewed the progress of the talks during the past week and "Rhee and I saw completely eye to eye on the preliminary talks."

Dean added, however, that Rhee reserved some doubts about inviting neutral nations to the conference.

Succeeds Jackson Taft

Dr. Marshall New Head Of Local Cancer Society

Officers were elected at a meeting of the board of trustees of the Marion County Unit, American Cancer Society, Friday noon in the South Plantation Room of Harding Hotel.

Dr. Merritt K. Marshall was elected to head the unit for the coming year. He succeeds Jackson H. Taft who has served as president for the past one and one-half years.

Elected with Dr. Marshall were: Mrs. A. B. Augenstein, vice president; Mrs. Le Roy Clauer, recording secretary; Mrs. Malcolm Severns, corresponding secretary; Francis B. Huber, treasurer. Mr. Taft and Dr. Marshall were named to represent the unit on the board of the United Appeals.

Mr. Taft presided for the meeting which included reports of the work in the county. It was voted to purchase a projector to be used in presenting the work of the Cancer Society to smaller groups. It was brought out in the discussion that slides and a smaller sized projector would serve the purpose of presenting the visual aid program to smaller groups and in smaller quarters than the films.

Dr. Marshall reported on the improvements made in the clinic quarters and Mr. Taft reported on an area meeting he attended in Bellefontaine and also on a meeting of the United Appeals trustees.

Council Will Consider Measure Raising Salaries Paid Officials

Ordinances raising the salaries of 14 elected Marion city officials, including City Council members, will be among the top items of discussion at City Council meeting at city hall Monday at 8 p.m.

The business meeting will follow a dinner meeting beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Harding Hotel. Purpose of this meeting is to welcome three councilmen elect and to honor three outgoing councilmen.

In other action, Council will also consider an ordinance authorizing the mayor to negotiate with the Federal Housing Administrator for the purchase of 11 acres of land at the Veteran's Housing Project on W. Council will be asked to approve an ordinance which would establish the new position of assistant deputy clerk in Municipal Court, and another authorizing the Board of Hospital Commissioners to appoint a deputy clerk and establishing the salary for the position.

Also on the agenda is a measure authorizing the mayor to sign a supplemental contract with the Marion County Commissioners pertaining to the new Marion General Hospital. City Solicitor George A. Piacentino said the purpose of this ordinance is to clear up details of the agreement between city and the county on the sale of a supplemental $350.000 bond issue passed by the voters to pay part of the cost of the hospital.

Councilmen-elect to be welcomed at the dinner party are Richard E. Lister, at-large, Warren E. Diehl, at-large, and Ralph Williams ourth Ward. Outgoing councilmen are Louis B. Conkle. Fourth Ward; Thomas H. Clark. and William Simmons, both councilmen-at-large.

1. The possibility that France may conclude a truce in Indochina on terms American officials fear would permit Communist-trained Vietminh leader, Ho Chi Minh, to win political control of the peninsula.

2. The necessity for an early decision on whether to grant military aid to Pakistan. Agreement on such a program would mean a new tough policy toward Nehru's government, which strongly opposes any arms aid to India's northern neighbor.

Communist China and Russia have chimed in with their own protests against any U. S. military help for Pakistan. The Peiping government delivered a formal protest note to Karachi yesterday, following up an identical note by Moscow Oct. 30.

Competent sources in Karachi said yesterday American leaders now are considering building up Pakistan to challenge Nehru's influence and leadership in non-Communist Asia.

Sears Co. Store To Add Room

Addition Planned At Rear of Building

Plans for construction of a $23,000 addition to the Sears and Roebuck store at 231 W. Center St. were announced today by Leonard Rentz, store manager.

The addition is to be a one-floor-plan sales room and service area at the rear of the present storeroom.

Of concrete block construction, it will extend the present building some 90 feet to Holmes Place and will be 60 feet wide containing about 5,400 square feet of floor space.

Part of it will be used as a garage where automobile tires and batteries may be changed and the remainder will be used as a sales room, Rentz added. Construction is scheduled to begin immediately, he said, and is expected to be completed within three months.

Youth Service Club Set Up at Marion YMCA

A new group has been organized in the YMCA. Called the Youth Service Club, it consists of junior and senior high school students who are given the responsibility for carrying on many of the youth activities of the association.

Some of their jobs consist of running the movie projector, directing the Gra-Y programs, acting as clerks at the information desks, checking coats, and serving meals in the dining room.

At present there are a total of 34 boys in the group. Of these, 24 are leaders of Gra-Y Clubs. They meet each week for a program of education in terms of YMCA service.

Purpose of the new group is to promote the youth training program and to build character in the Christian spirit.

Girls in the organization work with the younger girls' groups in their activities. There are 32 girls in the club, bringing the total membership to 66. The girls have much the same program as the boys, with their talents directed toward the programs set up for girls.

New members will be chosen on the basis of their potential ability as leaders, their Christian characters, and their desire to serve other young people.

Marvin Ludwig, youth director of the YMCA, said members of the group were the "hands and arms of the youth department."

Students in junior and senior high schools who are members of the YMCA are eligible to become participants in the new group.

Money for Children Topic of Discussion On Radio Program

Should children be given a allowance or should they earn their money? That's the topic for discussion on this week's Marion Youth Forum program, 3:05-3:30 p.m. Sunday over WMRN.

Comprising the teenage panel will be: Carol Bachman, Harding High School senior; Earnie Adams, Harding sophomore; Ruth Mason freshman at Taft Junior High; Jan Taylor, freshman at Eber Baker Junior High; and Dick Hastings, Edison Junior High freshman.

Adult guests on the Sunday program will be Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Krigbaum of 706 Mt. Vernon Ave., who have eight children ranging in age from 8 to 22 years. Mr. Krigbaum is district manager of the Pure Oil Co., a member of the Chamber of Commece, Kiwanis, Boy Scout Council and the Knights of Columbus. Both Mr. and Mrs. Krigbaum are members of St. Mary PTA and are active in the association work.

Phone calls from listeners who wish to direct a question to the panelists will be accepted during the program and suggestions for future programs may be sent to the radio station during the week.

Man Found Guilty Of Traffic Charge

Maurice J. Francill, 57, of 627 E. Center St. was fined $25 and costs in Marion Municipal Court yesterday afternoon when he was found guilty of failure to signal for a turn. He was arrested by a state highway patrolman Oct. 7 on Route 203 near the intersection with Route 4.

Francill claimed he had signaled for the turn. In the hearing yesterday before Assistant Municipal Judge Edwin L. Mitchell both Francill and his wife testified he had signaled and had brought his car to a dead stop at the intersection before actually making the turn.

Patrolman Garnet Moore testified that Francill had not signaled.

Francill was represented by J. C. A. Arter.

In other action in Municipal Court, William R. Brown pleaded guilty to a charge of failure to pay traffic tickets issued to his car and was fined $8 and costs. He was arrested Nov. 21 on a warrant signed by Police Chief Tom Coon, and posted a $50 bond pending his appearance in court later.

Marion Family Service Society Fills Vacancy, Studies Budget

Mrs. John Plank was elected to the board of directors of the Family Service Society at a meeting Thursday. She replaces Leonard Elliot, who is moving away from Marion.

The treasurer, James Sloan, reported on expenditures for November. The board, cognizant of the failure of the United Appeals to reach its goal, thoroughly reviewed these expenditures trying to find some item which could be futher reduced. Unable to do so, the matter was referred to the Executive Committee for further study, with the requirement that the quality of the present service be maintained.

The Question Raised

The question of charging a fee for service to those able to pay for it was raised and referred to the case work committee for further study.

Mrs. John Waddell brought recommendations from the interpretation and public relations committee for a year-round program of interpretation. It was suggested that bi-monthly news letters be sent to the membership and that radio scripts be procured. Both recommendations were voted down because of the cost involved.

The executive secretary reported on the Christmas work of the agency being conducted in cooperation with the Give-A-Christmas project sponsored by the Junior Service Guild. It was brought out that while most of the families coming to the society was economically able to carry through their own Christmas plans, the agency does have contact with families who need such assistance.

Family Needs

In one case the family is going to grandmother's for Christmas and relatives will give gifts of toys, the need is for $11 to buy a second hand bicycle for the 11-year-old boy. In another, the family asks for a basketball and wire cage, a gift to be shared by five boys. In another, the mother has been seriously ill, the father has had to lose work to care for her. The mother's illness has prevented her from doing the usual mending and remodeling. The family is asking for skirts and sweaters for four school-age girls and a snow suit for a three-year-old. These are a few of the wanted gifts.

Trucker Overcome By Gasoline Fumes

A truck driver was found unconcious in the cab of his truck parked in a Sohio Service Station lot at N. Main and George St. at 7:28 this morning. He was Walter Whitemire, 27, of near Butler, Pa.

Police believe the man pulled off the road to take a nap before continuing on his route. He left the motor running and it is believed fumes entered the cab making him unconcious.

A police cruiser was used to take him to City Hospistl where oxygen was applied. Hospital authorities said today the man was in good condition, and would probably be released tonight.

Police who removed Whitemere from the truck said his body had become rigid from inhaling the fumes.

Edington

nely said there were two marks found on a small safe which indicated the man had attempted to force it open. The small safe was welded to a larger one, which the man was attempting to open when discovered by Brahn.

Pleads Not Guilty

In a preliminary hearing today, Edington pleaded not guilty to both the breaking and entering charge and the charge of attempting to open a safe. He was bound over to the grand jury on $10,000 bond, $5,000 on each charge. He failed to pay the bond, and was being held in city prison this morning.

Edington earlier this year was found not guilty in Common Pleas Court of charges of breaking into a dwelling and attempted criminal attack on Mrs. Robert Lovell, 17, whose address at that time was 917 Bryant St.

The charges were filed by her husband two days after the alleged attack on April 5.

Edington was found with serious stab wounds in his abdomen that morning and at his trial Mrs. Lovell said she had stabbed him when he tried to attack her. He claimed at the trial that he had been invited into the home by Mrs. Lovell.

Tools Left Behind

In investigating the burglary Friday, police found a complete set of tools left by the man in his attempt. Brahn reported he had fired two warning shots at the man and had made him lie on the floor.

When Brahn turned to call his wife from the upstairs apartment, the burglar leaped up, kicked out a plate glass window, and jumped through, escaping without injuring himself.

No fingerprints were found at the scene of the crime, and police believe the man was wearing gloves while doing his work. Nothing besides the safe had been disturbed.

His case will be heard when the grand jury meets Dec. 22.

The Stag Bar and Grill is owned and operated by Joseph Spangler of the Lido Apartments.

'How Can They Eat So Much?'

Methods of Eliminating Mighty Moth Discussed

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

How to make amyth out of a moth is a favorite conversational project for some coffee table scientist. You've probably heard them tell of how the destruction wrought by a moth is greatly exaggerated. But when you took your woolens and furs out of storage this season and found holes eaten in them, you began to wonder how one little bug could have such a big appetite.

It takes sad experience to learn about the conduct of moths. This writer's father happens to know a lot about pianos—from more than a half-century's observation—so he is on speaking terms with moths. He explains the argument that a moth is harmless, because it actually is harmless. No flying moth ever ate the felt from under the keys of Paderewski's piano. But the worms hatched from the 100 or more eggs laid by each of these dainty flutter-byes have eaten the felt right off the hammers of many pianos.

Steps of Extermination

Three steps are necessary to get rid of moths:

1. Kill the moth — the little yellowish variety with about a half-inch wing spread. Bigger varieties are beautiful but dum and harmless.

2. Get rid of their eggs by frequent beating, brushing and airing of clothes in bright sunlight only—or by dry cleaning.

3. Store clothes where a fumigant or aroma in a virtually airtight place will kill any newly hatched larvae. Partly or fully developed worms are harder to kill

L. L. of Stamford, Conn., who operates a men's clothing store, writes to this department: "I have a cedar clothes closet in its natural state, but it has lost all of its aroma. What can I do about it"

Closets or chests lined with aromatic cedar have been effective against moth damage when they are tightly constructed with weatherstripped doors and when clothes are free from eggs and worms when stored. The reason cedar works is that its aroma kills newly hatched worms. Older and tougher worms will survive and chew.

But the oil from the cedar sometimes hardens on the surface with age and closes the pores of the wood. In these cases a light sanding with a fine grade of production paper every year or so will open up the surface, release the aroma and give the cedar a fresh, clean appearance.

For a really effective cedar closet, use lining at least ¾-inch thick. Use it on the floor, ceiing and door as well as on the walls. All crevices must be closed tightly, but paint, varnish or finish of any kind will seal the pores of the wood and destroy its effectiveness. If you have cedar which has been painted or varnished, you can bring out its natural aroma by sanding it down to the natural wood.

Moth-proof bags, commonly sold, cannot be effective if they have any openings, no matter how small. They can't be moth-proof if a clothes hanger hook protrudes from the top, unless the hanger hole is tightly sealed. Porous bags or containers of moth crystals then must be hung in such bags.

Naphthalene and paradichlorbenzene—the two common chemicals used in moth flakes—release vapors of fumigating powers. When a room or closet is sealed, these vapors will fall to the floor and smother insects. Carbon tetrachloride is another safe fumigant. Placed in an open dish on a top shelf it will release vapors falling to the floor. A pound will fumigate a 4 by 5 closet.

Sprays applied with the usual household appliances have not been rated entirely effective. Power spraying is needed.

It's a good idea to set aside an adequate closet for storage of unused clothing during the moth season. This closet can be sealed and charged with fumigant vapors.

Among things found to be worthless in the battle against moths are tobacco, lavender petals, pepper, borax, cedar leaves—or what superstition have you?

Willkie Praised In Memorial Rites at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The late Wendell Willkie was praised in ceremonies here last night as a "political Paul Revere" and one who "revitalized the Republican party."

The tributes were paid as the Wendell Willkie Post of the American Legion unveiled a bronze plaque honoring the 1940 Republican presidential candidate.

Willkie was commander of the post after coming to Akron in 1919 as a 27-year-old lawyer. He lived here 10 years, working for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and later a law firm.

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U S. delegate to the United Nations, called Willkie "a political Paul Revere who awoke millions who never had taken part in politics."

Another speaker, John S. Knight, president of Knight Newspapers Inc., said Willkie "revitalized the Republican party and gave it a new type of leadership based upon courage, imagination and recognition of the need for a new and fresh approach."

Gov. Frank J. Lausche, Howard Kingdom, Ohio State commander of the American Legion; Rep. William Ayres of Akron and Joseph Thomas, secretary and general counsel of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. also spoke.

Willkie's widow, Edith, of New York, and their son, Philip, of Indiana attended the ceremonies.

Willkie died in 1944.

By The Associated Press

Old fashioned boxed-in back steps rot easily because of dampness retained within their enclosure. They often are an invitation to termites, being in direct contact with the ground and providing the dark and damp passage required by these destructive insects.

When replacing such steps it is easy to build a sturdy, open flight which will not permit water or rubbish to accumulate.

The design shown here was selected by Popular Science for its simplicity. It makes it unnecessary to lay out and notch the stringers—side supports—since the treads are supported by cantilevers or dadoes bolted securely to the stringers.

Kentucky Youth Shoots, Kills Girl, 14, After Dare

LOUISA, Ky. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy shot and killed a 14-year-old girl near here yesterday, after the girl told him he was afraid to shoot her, Coroner L. Byron Young said.

The boy, Walter Lowe, fled after the shotgun blast nearly decapitated Susie Mae Edwards, but he was taken into custody five hours later at Nippa, Ky.

Susie Mae was the sister of young Lowe's mother, Mrs. Emerson Coon of Jackson, Ohio.

An inquest will be held today.

Lowe was paroled from the Ohio Boys Industrial School in Lancaster, where he was sent for auto theft.

$12 Million Distribution Of Tax Funds Readied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Ohio's local governments will share in a 12 million dollar Christmas pie.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes said today his office is working overtime to mail out checks to each of the 2,331 taxing districts. The checks represent distributions from four major sources of revenue for local governments.

The biggest distribution is $5,600,600 from 1953 motor vehicle license funds.

STATE BUILDING SUGGESTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A legislative committee yesterday recommended the state build a new office building to save nearly $600,000 a year in rents now paid for private office space in Columbus.

The office housing commission said the new state building probably should be 10-12 stories high and would cost 6½-9 million dollars.

MAKE YOUR OWN bedboards. Frequently prescribed by doctors to ease backaches, they are easily cut ot size in the home workshop. Just ask your lumber dealer for a panel of tempered pressed wood ¼-inch thick. Cut it to a 60-inch length for under the mattress of a double bed; 30 by 60 for twin beds; 24 by 60 for cot or day bed. Round the edges with a sandblock or file. This hardboard will not splinter, split or crack.

Wyandot Farmers Take Tour of Feed Handling

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY — Some 80 Wyandot County farmers took the recent feed and forage handling tour sponsored by the Wyandot County grasslands committee, according to S. C. Cashman, county agricultural agent.

Several kinds of labor-saving devices were observed by the tour-goers who visited the farms of Dale Gregg, Phillip Case, D. H. Trease, Bill Lenhart, Wayne Swartz, Ray Alban, Harry Stumbo and Richard Alban. Richard Baker of Ohio State University, who has been making a study of labor saving devices to make the farm unit more efficient, assisted with the tour.

Cashman, Baker and W. W. Wharton, associate county agent, summarized the tour as being a great help to the farmer who knew he was going to have to change his feeding system, but didn't know what type of feeding system to install.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q.: Several months ago we moved into our new home and have experienced quite a bit of trouble. The wind howls into our fireplace when the velocity is more than 15 miles an hour. We wonder if you could suggest a possible remedy?

A.: See that the fireplace damper is closed tightly. It is possible that the noise is due to the fact that the chimney lining does not extend high enough above the top of the chimney brick. Try extending this eight-to-twelve inches above the brick work. If the furnace flue and the fireplace flue are in the same chimney raise the top of one above the level of the other for a distance of at least 12 inches.

Q.: I would appreciate your forwarding me any information available on termites. Our house is about 50 years old and the wood throughout is very hard, but there are termite symptoms in the basement rafters.

A.: I suggest that you send 15 cents (no stamps; to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C., and ask for Farmers Bulletin 1911 on termites. This booklet contains information on the insect and shows the vulnerable points in the house where such infestation could start. There are also suggestions on methods for exterminating these dangerous pests.

Q.: We purchased a home recently and find the previous owner had laid linoleum over the tile around the kitchen sink. How can we clean it properly

A.: It should not be too difficult to lift the linoleum off the surface of the tile. If it offers any resistance, pry it off with a wide blade putty knife. Ordinary linoleum paste can be scrubbed off with hot water. A waterproof paste will have to be softened by soaking it with washing soda or trisodium phosphate used in the proportions of three pounds in each gallon of hot water. When it becomes soft, scrub with more of the same solution, using a stiff brush for the purpose. To take off some types of paste, paint remover will have to be used.

Parrot Is Long on Talk But Too Short on Action

BERLIN, Conn. (UP)—When two men saw flames shooting from the roof of a house they pounded on the front door to see if anyone was inside. A voice kept repeating:

"Wait a minute, I'll open the door. Wait a minute, I'll open the door."

However, no one opened the door.

PHOTO LISTINGS
One picture tells a better story than 10,000 words so, let us dispense with vague descriptions. Come into our office and see these homes. Unless a home has a pleasing exterior, nine clients out of ten don't want to look inside. You can see more homes for sale in our office in five minutes than you can see in five months of tiresome driving up one street and down another. Conserve your energy—conserve your time.

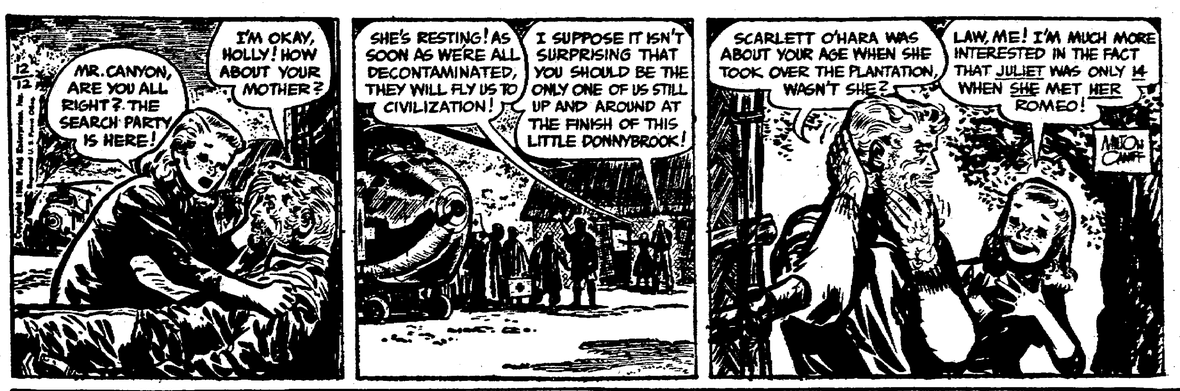
STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff



I'M OKAY, HOLLY! HOW ABOUT YOUR MOTHER?
MR. CANYON, ARE YOU ALL RIGHT? THE SEARCH PARTY IS HERE!
SHE'S RESTING! AS SOON AS WE'RE ALL DECONTAMINATED, THEY WILL FLY US TO CIVILIZATION!
I SUPPOSE IT ISN'T SURPRISING THAT YOU SHOULD BE THE ONLY ONE OF US STILL UP AND AROUND AT THE FINISH OF THIS LITTLE DONNYBROOK!
SCARLETT O'HARA WAS ABOUT YOUR AGE WHEN SHE TOOK OVER THE PLANTATION, WASN'T SHE?
LAW, ME! I'M MUCH MORE INTERESTED IN THE FACT THAT JULIET WAS ONLY 14 WHEN SHE MET HER ROMEO!

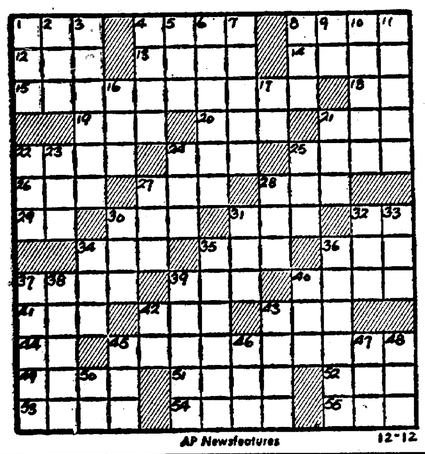
Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle



Hemline Changes Now Move Slower

NEW YORK (UP) — Christian Dior is a hemline coward compared with some of his predecessors.

The Paris designer's edict that skirts should be one and one-half to two inches shorter this year was a mild one when you consider how designers used to move the hemline up and down the leg.

Consider the years 1919 to 1923. Those years, the hemline jumped up and down like a jack-in-the-box. In 1919, skirts were almost to the floor. By 1920 they were mid-calf; in 1921 they came down two to three inches, stayed there in 1922, and in 1923 dropped down around the ankles again.

The see-sawing of hemlines since 1900 is illustrated by a display at the Traphagen School of Fashion, which uses authentic costumes.

Skirts with trains dragged the dirt in 1900. By 1906, they had lost the trains, but still were down to the floor. In 1913, the hobble skirt came along, and it was hard to determine the length, because of the uneven hemline.

Skirt lengths were about the same in 1924 as they are now. It was actually the late '20's, before the era of the flapper length—at the kneecap and higher.

Hemlines shifted down again in 1930 and '31, and by 1932 were about the same as today. By 1933, designers dropped them another two inches where they stayed until 1936, then went back up a couple of inches.

Came the 40's, and wartime government restrictions on amount of cloth available, and skirt lengths soared up almost to the flapper length.

Dior rose to fame when he lengthened them again after the war, and some women were milling around in skirts almost as long as those at the turn of the century.

The Traphagen exhibit stops at 1953 and the mid-calf length.

Maps Being Turned Out As Productions in 3-D

STANFORD, Calif. (UP) — And now we have 3-D maps.

After many years of study, a Stanford University cartographer, Joseph E. Williams, has developed a "shaded relief" technique which causes mountains and valleys to stand out with remarkable boldness.

This is done by the skillful use of color and shading. No gimmicks, such as celluloid glasses, are needed.

The maps are appearing in a text on California history recently published for grade schools.

In the 1950 census California had 4,922,000 more people than in 1940.
